Welcome to the West Virginia Legislature:

We are pleased you have chosen to participate in the West Virginia Legislature's Page Program. It is our pleasure to make your time with us informative, interesting, and enjoyable. This program has been designed to outline the procedures you will follow while serving as a Page in the Senate or in the House of Delegates.

We appreciate your interest in state government and are confident your day with us will provide a better understanding of the legislative process.

The historical data included in this program will be helpful in your various classes. Please contact the Senate Clerk's Office or the House Clerk's Office if you require additional information or assistance.

Enjoy your visit to your State Capitol and thank you for serving our Members.

PREFACE

Since the inception of the Page Program in 1993, its intent has been to provide a learning experience for youth in the legislative process. Our goal is to present educational and historical information to students participating as Pages during the Regular Session of the Legislature.

Among other things in the Page Program Book, students will find an explanation of the rules governing the actions of Senators and Delegates as they deliberate legislation on the Chamber Floors of both houses. There is a diagram which covers the basic overview of how a bill moves through the legislative process on its way to becoming law. Students will also find lists of current Senators and Delegates, an overview of the Standing Committees of the Senate and House of Delegates and instructions on proper etiquette when on the Senate or House Chamber Floors. Maps are included to help students find their way around the Capitol Building.

It is our hope that students serving as Pages find this experience enjoyable, informative and useful in their educational pursuits and that they come away with a better understanding of the legislative process and an interest in effecting positive change in our state.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

INSTRUCTIONS

The West Virginia Legislative Page Program has become an integral part of the Senate and House of Delegates service to its members and the public. It has been a communications link between the Senators and Delegates and our young students.

The Page Program gives students, ages 12-18 years old from West Virginia an opportunity to serve as Pages in the West Virginia Senate or House of Delegates during the legislative session. Pages serve Members of the Legislature from their district in a nonpartisan capacity.

The program accomplishes the following objectives:

- Provides students with a meaningful and exciting experience in state government;
- Students meet and work with other young people, their State Senators, Delegates and those from different areas of the state;
- Gives students firsthand learning experiences regarding the role of the legislators and their influence in effecting positive change in the state;
- Young people gain a better understanding of state government and the legislative process. They can share this knowledge with others in their respective schools and communities.

GENERAL COMMENTS

Through your participation in the Page Program, you represent your school, your community and the youth of West Virginia to the legislators. The image you project will be part of an overall impression of the West Virginia Legislature and to visitors at the State Capitol. We want you to enjoy your day as a Page. Relax, use common sense, and show courtesy and sensitivity to others. Feel free to ask for help when you need it. The Head Pages will be happy to answer your questions.

NOTES OF PERSONAL INTEREST

- The cafeteria is located in the basement of the Capitol building. Hours are 8:00am-2:00pm.
- Restrooms are conveniently located in the main unit of Building 1.
- Valuables and other personal belongings should be left in a secure area.
- Check with the Head Pages for assistance.

SECURITY

Your safety is of great concern to us! It is imperative that the Head Pages or Doorkeepers know where you are at all times. A diagram is provided in this page program book indicating the area you are to serve during your time with us.

RULES

When the Legislature is in session, we request that you refrain from talking. We must be considerate of staff personnel working. Always avoid unnecessary conversation or distractions while awaiting a call from the Senators or Delegates.

- Chewing gum is never allowed in the Chamber.
- Cell phones are not permitted in either Chamber.
- Always check with the Head Page before leaving the Chamber.
- Seating arrangement diagrams for the Senators or Delegates in the Chamber are provided to each Page.
- Listen carefully to the instructions/training from Legislators and Head Page. If you do not understand their instructions, politely ask that they repeat them.
- If you are still uncertain about directions or if you do not know how to fulfill the errand, go directly to the Head Page.
- If you are asked to carry a message from one member to another, you may use the seating chart which has been provided.
- At the end of the Session you may have your picture taken with your sponsoring Senator or Delegate.
- You will receive a certificate signed by either the President of the Senate and the Senate Clerk or the Speaker of the House and the House Clerk depending on which legislative body in which you serve.

When answering a light:

- Never walk in front of a legislator who is speaking.
- Never walk between two legislators who are debating.
- Never walk in front of a legislator who is seeking recognition from the President or the Speaker.
- Never walk in center aisle.

DAILY ORDER OF BUSINESS AND PROCEDURE

- To read, correct and approve the Journal.

A daily Journal of the proceedings of the Senate is kept. At the beginning of each day, the Clerk will begin reading the Journal of the previous day. A motion by a senator to approve the Journal will cease the reading.
- Introduction of guests.

If a Senator has guests who are visiting the Senate, once recognized by the President, he or she will rise and will introduce his or her guests.
- To dispose of communications from the House of Delegates and the Executive.

The Senate and House of Delegates have an official way of communicating with each other during a session. These communications are called messages. These messages from the House of Delegates are read by the Clerk and the appropriate legislative action is taken. Also, under this order of business, the Governor can send communications to the Senate. These are called Executive Messages. Once a message from the Governor has been read, the appropriate legislative action is taken.
- To receive reports from standing committees.

A standing committee is a group of Senators, along with their chair, who has been appointed by the President, to meet on bills sent to their committees. There are 17 standing committees in the Senate. If they have acted favorably on a bill that has been sent to their committee, they must report that action to the full Senate.

DAILY ORDER OF BUSINESS AND PROCEDURE

- To receive reports from select committees.
A select committee is a group of Senators appointed by the President to act on issues other than those brought before a standing committee.
- To receive bills, resolutions, motions and petitions.
Bills and resolutions being introduced in the Senate for the first time are read, and the President will refer the bill to the appropriate committee. Motions are also considered under this order of business, and petitions signed by citizens on a given subject are presented and referred to the appropriate committee.
- To act upon unfinished business of the preceding day and resolutions lying over from the previous day, and no resolution shall lose its place on the calendar by not being acted upon on the day following that on which it was offered.
Any business that the Senate may have held over from the previous day is considered under this order of business.
- Senate and House Bills on third reading. (Passage Stage)
Senators will debate and vote on Senate and House Bills.
- Senate and House Bills on second reading. (Amendment Stage)
Senators or Standing Committees can offer amendments to Senate or House Bills.
- Senate and House Bills on first reading.
Bills that have been reported from committees are read.
- Introduction of guests.
If a Senator has guests visiting the Senate, he or she will rise and, once recognized by the President, will introduce his or her guests.
- Remarks by Members of the Senate.
Senators can make remarks regarding any subject.
- Miscellaneous business.
Matters that are not in the official order of business are considered.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE SENATE PRESIDENT

By Senate Rule:

- Presides over the Senate.
- Refers bills, resolutions and joint resolutions to committee.
- Has control of all the corridors, passageways and rooms as well as the Senate Chamber.
- Appoints standing committees, their chairpersons and their members (with choice of minority members delegated to the minority caucus), and sets criteria for “balance” on the committees (e.g., geographical, political, occupational).
- Signs all Acts, Resolutions, Writs, Warrants, and Subpoenas issued or ordered by the Senate.
- Sets schedule for committee meetings.
- Appoints Senate members to conference committees.
- Chair of the Senate Rules Committee.
- Co-chair of the Joint Committee on Government and Finance. The other co-chairman is the Speaker of the House of Delegates.

VOTING REQUIREMENTS

VOTES REQUIRING MEMBERS ELECTED

Election of Officers

Senate Rule 3. A majority of members elected shall be necessary to elect officers.

House Amendments to Senate Bill

Senate Rule 26. The affirmative vote of a majority of all members elected shall be necessary to repass a bill or joint resolution that has been amended by the House of Delegates.

Constitutional Amendments

Senate Rule 58. A majority of members present may pass amendments to constitutional amendments, but the proposed constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds vote of members elected for passage.

VOTES REQUIRING MEMBERS PRESENT

Session

Senate Rule 1. Two members may adjourn a session, three members may order a call of a session, send for absentees and make any order for their censure or discharge.

Senate Rule 2. If less than a quorum is present, the members present may send the Sergeant at Arms or any other person they may authorize for any or all absent members.

Introduction of Bills

Senate Rule 15. To introduce a bill or resolution from the floor takes a majority of those present.

Resolutions

Senate Rule 16. Majority of members present may elect to overrule the requirement for concurrent and simple resolutions to lie on the table for at least one day.

Senate Rule 18. Majority of members present may elect to overrule the requirement that all bills and resolutions reported from the House of Delegates shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committee.

Senate Rule 19. By a vote of four-fifths of the members present, the constitutional rule requiring bills or joint resolutions to be read on three different days may be dispensed with.

Printing of Bills

Senate Rule 21. A majority of the members present may dispense with the rule requiring printing of bills prior to advancement to second reading.

Select Committees

Senate Rule 30. A majority of members present may direct that the composition of select committees may be other than not less than three nor more than five members.

Executive Sessions

Senate Rule 32. An executive session may be held only upon a majority vote of the members present.

Bill Withdrawal from Committee or Taken from Table

Senate Rule 34. A majority of members present may withdraw a bill, resolution or other business from the committee to which it has been referred, or that it be taken from the table and placed upon the calendar.

Previous Question

Senate Rule 41. A majority of members present may make a motion for the previous question.

Reconsideration of vote

Senate Rule 42. Any member who voted with the prevailing side on a question may move to reconsider that vote at any time on the same day or the next succeeding day of actual session.

Excused from Voting

Senate Rule 43. A motion to excuse a member from voting on a question must be made by the member requesting to be excused prior to the division of the question or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced.

Constitutional Amendments

Senate Rule 58. A majority of members present may pass amendments to constitutional amendments, but the proposed constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds vote of members elected for passage.

Rule Suspension

Senate Rule 61. Two-thirds of members present may suspend a standing rule or order of the Senate.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

Senate Rule 39.

- To adjourn (not debatable and shall not be amended).
- To lay on the table (not debatable and shall not be amended).

WV LEGISLATIVE PROCESS

A bill is introduced by a member of the House or Senate

It is referred to a committee by the House Speaker or the Senate President

The committee considers the bill

It is read a third time, members debate and then vote on the bill

If passed, the bill is sent to the second chamber where the process repeats

It is read a first time, advanced to second reading, and possibly amended

The committee reports the bill to the members of the House or Senate with the Speaker or the President...

the committee...

The Legislature may vote to override the veto, and the bill becomes law without the Governor's approval

If passes, the bill is signed into law or vetoed by the Governor and action by the House or Senate...

LEGISLATIVE GLOSSARY

adjournment — termination or closing of a session of the Legislature or committee until another set time.

adjournment sine die — final adjournment of legislative body, adjournment without a day and time set.

adoption — approval or acceptance; usually applied to amendments, resolutions and motions.

amendment — changes in legislation by adding, deleting or modifying material.

appropriation — money allocated by the Legislature to various departments or agencies for their operation.

bill — a proposal for a new law, the amendment or repeal of an existing law, or appropriation of public money.

calendar — listing of bills and resolutions reported out of committee.

Clerk — chief administrative and parliamentary officer of the Senate elected by the members. The Clerk is the custodian of the official records, charged with keeping the Journal and supervises the clerical business of the Senate.

committee reports and recommendations — committee reports and recommendations are advisory only.

division — a method of voting in which only the numerical result is recorded.

enacting clause — that clause of a bill or of an act that formally expresses the legislative sanction.

engrossed bill — version of bill that includes all adopted amendments of house of origin attached in the original measure.

enrolled bill — final official version of bill as agreed to by both houses, containing all necessary signatures.

germaneness — the relevance or appropriateness of amendments or substitutes.

lay over — postponement of consideration of a legislative matter.

motion — a proposal made to the presiding officer calling for special action. The principal tool used in the transaction of legislative business. Motions are of various order, rank, precedence and class as established through parliamentary practice and rules.

point of order — question raised by a member when he or she doubts the correctness of a procedure being followed. Such a point requires a ruling from the presiding officer, is not debatable and is subject to appeal to the house in which the point of order is raised.

President — presiding officer of the Senate elected by Senate members.

reconsider — a motion to retake a vote which places the question in the same status it was prior to the vote on the question.

resolution — measure used by single house to take action affecting its own procedure or expressing an opinion.

concurrent — measure affecting actions or procedures of both houses.

joint — measure used to propose amendments to the State Constitution or to ratify amendments to the United States Constitution. Action by both houses is required.

second reading — reading of bill or joint resolution by reading clerk at a regularly scheduled session, usually having already been acted upon by a standing committee. The measure may be amended on the floor at this time.

Speaker — presiding officer of the House of Delegates elected by House members.

strike out — used in amendments to bills and resolutions in order to delete unwanted language. A motion to strike out the enacting clause has the effect of killing the bill.

substitute — a substitute bill replaces the original measure.

suspend the rules — a motion which temporarily suspends the normal rules of procedure to accommodate the handling of a particular measure. Only that matter for which suspensions took place can be considered.

third reading — reading of bill or joint resolution by reading clerk at a regularly scheduled session for passage by either house.

title — a concise statement of the contents of a bill.

short title — an abridged description of a bill.

unanimous consent — permission granted without objection by either house to a member desiring to accomplish a measure without making a motion.

unfinished business — business which has been laid over from a previous day.

veto — the action of the Governor in disapproving a legislative measure.

voice vote — oral expression of the members when a question is submitted for their determination. Vote, division and rising-to vote by standing. Numerical results only are recorded in division.

withdraw a motion — a request to retract from further consideration a motion already offered.

yeas and nays — recorded vote of members on an issue.

ELECTED OFFICES

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

These six elected state officers, along with the appointed state superintendent of schools, comprise the Board of Public Works. Each shares a portion of the responsibility of leading, directing and administering state government operations and carrying out laws adopted by the Legislature. Their separate duties create a balance of power within the executive branch.

All candidates for these offices file with the Secretary of State and appear on the ballot in all 55 counties. Each candidate must be a qualified voter — which simply means the candidate must be eligible to register to vote in West Virginia. Other qualifications are listed.

Term 12 years

Salary $142,800

Filing Fee $1,210

Minimum Age 30 years

Residence WV 5 years

(Admitted to practice law 10 years before election)

The Supreme Court of the Appeals is West Virginia's highest court and the court of last resort. West Virginia is one of only 11 states with a single appellate court. The Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia is the busiest appellate court of its type in the United States.

There are two terms of the Court each year. The first terms begin on the second Tuesday in January and ends in July. The second term begins on the first Wednesday in September and ends in December.

BUDGET

THE BUDGET PROCESS

This section is an overview of the Legislative (Senate and House of Delegates) and Executive (Governor) processing of the state budget before it becomes law.

Every citizen of West Virginia is affected by the budget many times in each fiscal year. It is the single most important bill passed by the Legislature. This bill does not contain power of taxation. However, it is the regulatory device which determines the taxes West Virginians will pay. It determines the level of services the people will receive in any given fiscal year that begins July 1 and expires June 30.

An interesting comparison in the preparation of the budget bill with an individual's personal budgeting process gives a better understanding as demonstrated in the following examples:

- Determining essential services
- Financial need for growth
- Availability of finances to meet services and expenses
- Risk involved in determining if new taxes will be assessed

* Following a regular gubernatorial election, these steps in the budget process are delayed by one month.

MAJOR STATUTORY AND NONDISCRETIONARY REQUIREMENTS

Each year there are several major nondiscretionary requirements that limit the flexibility of any discretionary recommendations by the Governor. The FY 2016 Executive Budget recommendations include expenditures of $2.8 billion of these major requirements and make up 65% of the total General Revenue funds available.

Items that fall in the discretionary spending category, which make up 35% of the total General Revenue funds available, are considered necessary for public health, safety, and education of West Virginia citizens and may include but are not limited to: Division of Corrections, West Virginia State Police, Behavioral Health, Rehabilitation Services, Children's Health Insurance Program, Schools for the Deaf and Blind and Higher Education that supports public universities and colleges and provides student financial aid.

MOTOR FUEL TAXES

Motor Fuel Excise Tax

- Contains a flat rate and a variable rate.
- Current flat rate is $.205 per gallon.
- Variable rate is equal to five percent of the average wholesale price of motor fuel.
- Imposed and payable on all motor fuel upon import into this state, removal from a terminal within this state, or removal from a terminal in another state for delivery in this state.
- The average wholesale price shall not be less than $2.34 per gallon, which generates a minimum tax rate of $0.142 per gallon.
- By December 1st of each year, the tax commissioner must calculate the average wholesale price and variable rate from sales data from the previous July through October. Calculated rate is effective for the next calendar year. The calculated price and calculated rate may not deviate by more than ten percent from the prior year.

Motor Carrier Road Tax

- Equivalent to the Motor Fuel Excise Tax on motor fuel.
- Imposed upon every motor carrier with a vehicle that is designed to transport persons or property having two or more axles with a gross vehicle weight exceeding 26,000 pounds, including road tractors and tractor trucks.
- Based upon each gallon of motor fuel used in the carrier's operations in the state.
- Carrier is entitled to a refund for fuel purchased in the state but used out of state.
- Carriers domiciled in the state are charged an annual fee of $10 for two identification markers.

HISTORY

People have lived in West Virginia as far back as 12,500 years ago, beginning with the Paleo-Indians. The Fort Ancient Indians inhabited the area until 300 years ago when they were driven out by the Iroquois Indians from New York and the Great Lakes area. When the first European settlers arrived, all the Native American villages were gone, and the area was a hunting ground used by many tribes including the Cherokee, Shawnee, and Iroquois.

The first permanent European settlement dates from 1731 when Morgan Morgan founded Mill Creek. In 1742 coal was discovered on the Coal River, an event that would be of great significance in determining West Virginia's future.

West Virginia shares its history with Virginia from 1601 to 1861. Then the delegates of 40 western counties formed their own government, which was granted statehood in 1863. Declared a state by President Abraham Lincoln, West Virginia is the only state designated by a Presidential Proclamation.

STATE FLAG

By Senate Joint Resolution Number 18, approved by the Legislature March 7, 1929, West Virginia adopted the present State flag. The resolution in part is as follows: "That the Legislature of West Virginia hereby adopts a State flag of the following design and proportions, to-wit:

The proportions of the flag of the State of West Virginia shall be the same as those of the United States ensign; the field shall be pure white, upon the center of which shall be emblazoned in proper colors, the coat-of-arms of the State of West Virginia upon which appears the date of the admission of the State into the Union, also with the motto, 'Montani Semper Liberi' (Mountaineers Are Always Free). Above the coat-of-arms of the State of West Virginia there shall be a ribbon lettered, 'State of West Virginia,' and arranged appropriately around the lower part of the coat-of-arms of the State of West Virginia a wreath of Rhododendron Maximum in proper colors. The field of pure white shall be bordered by a strip of blue on four sides. The flag of the State of West Virginia when used for parade purposes shall be trimmed with gold colored fringe on three sides and when used on ceremonial occasions with the United States ensign, shall be trimmed and mounted in similar fashion to the United States flag as regards to fringe, cord, tassels and mounting."

STATE FLOWER

The Rhododendron Maximum, or “big laurel” is the State flower of West Virginia. It was selected on January 23, 1903, by a joint resolution of both houses of the Legislature, following a vote by pupils of the public schools. It is a shrub of the heath family and may be recognized by its large evergreen leaves and delicate pale pink or white bloom, mottled with either red or yellow flecks.

STATE TREE

The Sugar Maple, Acer Saccarum as it is known scientifically, was made West Virginia’s official tree by a concurrent resolution of the 1949 Legislature. It provides an excellent wood for furniture and produces maple syrup. A single tree is 70-120 feet high and produces two to three pounds of sugar when “sugared off”. It has a five lobed leaf and a small wing-shaped seed pod.

STATE BIRD

The Cardinal was made West Virginia’s official bird by concurrent resolution of the 1949 Legislature. The male of the species is a rich scarlet with a mask and shading of black, while the young birds and females are a less brilliant color. The cardinal measures approximately eight inches long and is found from New York State to the Gulf of Mexico and as far west as Oklahoma. Its scientific name is Cardinalis Cardinalis.

STATE ANIMAL

The Black Bear or Euarctos Americanus is actually deeply tinted with brown. His habitat in West Virginia is primarily in the Eastern Mountain Region. He still roams freely throughout 36 states and Canada. Either one or two cubs, rarely three, are born at a time, weighing about eight ounces each. The adult reaches an average maximum weight of 250 pounds.

THE GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

Joseph H. Diss Debar, an artist from Doddridge County, was chosen by a committee of the Legislature to prepare drawings for an official seal for the State of West Virginia. The artist submitted his drawings with an explanation of each detail and from these was adopted by the Legislature, a seal which has remained without change, the Official Seal of West Virginia. The seal contains the Latin motto, Montani Semper Liberi, which means "Mountaineers Are Always Free". A large stone in the center of the seal stands for strength. On the stone is the date on which the State was admitted to the Union, June 20, 1863. The farmer with his axe represents agriculture and the miner with his pick represents industry. In front of the rock are two rifles, crossed and surmounted at the place of contact by the Phrygian cap, or cap of liberty, indicating that freedom and liberty were won and will be maintained by the force of arms. While the seal was designed and adopted with two sides, only the front side is in common use. The reverse side of laurel and oak leaves, log house, hills, factories and boat is the Governor's Official Seal. The Constitution of West Virginia, Article 2, Section 7, provides that: "The present seal of the State, with its motto 'Montani Semper Liberi' shall be the great seal of the State of West Virginia, and shall be kept by the Secretary of State, to be used by him, officially as directed by law."

WEST VIRGINIA GOVERNMENT

CONSTITUTION

(Preamble) “Since through Divine Providence we enjoy the blessings of civil, political and religious liberty, we, the people of West Virginia, in and through the provisions of this Constitution, reaffirm our faith in and constant reliance upon God and seek diligently to promote, preserve and perpetuate good government in the State of West Virginia for the common welfare, freedom and security of ourselves and our posterity.” (This preamble was proposed by House Joint Resolution No. 8, Acts 1959, Page 659; submitted by Acts 1960, c-4; and ratified November 8, 1960.)

West Virginia adopted its first constitution in 1863, when it became the 35th state in the Union. The state is now governed by its second constitution, adopted in 1872. The constitution may also be revised by a constitutional convention. Before a constitutional convention can be called, it must be approved by a majority of the legislators and the voters.

EXECUTIVE

The Governor of West Virginia is the state’s chief executive and is elected to a four-year term. They may serve any number of terms, but not more than two terms in succession. In case of the death, conviction or impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, or other disability of the Governor, the President of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the President of the Senate, for any of the above-named causes, shall become incapable of performing the duties of Governor, the same shall revolve upon the speaker of the House of Delegates; and in all other cases where there is no one to act as Governor, one shall be chosen by joint vote of the Legislature. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of the Governor before the first three years of the term shall have expired, a new election for Governor shall take place to fill the vacancy.

The heads of many state administrative departments are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Other top state officials include the Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, and the Commissioner of Agriculture. They are elected to a four-year term and can succeed themselves as many times as they are elected.

LEGISLATURE

The Legislature of West Virginia consists of a Senate and House of Delegates. The voters of each of the state’s 17 senatorial districts elect two Senators to four-year terms, with the exception of Kanawha County which elects four senators. Each of the state’s 67 delegate districts elects 1 to 5 delegates, depending upon population.

The Legislature meets every year. Regular sessions begin on the second Wednesday of January except in the year after an election for governor. In that year, the regular session starts on the second Wednesday of February. Sixty calendar days is the regular session; however, it may be extended by a concurrent resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house. The Governor may call extraordinary sessions.

COURTS

There are three levels of courts - the Supreme Court of Appeals, the Circuit Court and the Magistrate or “peoples’ court”. The highest court in West Virginia is the Supreme Court of Appeals, which has five justices, who are elected to twelve year terms. Beginning with the January 1980 term and continuing thereafter, on the first day of the January term of each year, a Chief Justice is selected from the members of the court in accordance with the justices’ seniority.

There are 31 judicial circuits and each has at least one circuit judge. Circuit judges are elected for a term of eight years.

Magistrates are elected to a four-year term and their salaries, which are set by the Legislature, depend upon the population of the county in which they serve. Each county has at least two magistrates.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Counties are governed by county commissions which have executive, legislative and some quasi-judicial functions. County commissioners, county clerks, and circuit clerks are elected for six-year terms. Other county officials include a prosecuting attorney, who is the county’s chief law-enforcement officer; an assessor; a sheriff; and a surveyor, who are elected for four year terms.

The history of the State Capitol began in Wheeling, where the Linsly Institute Building, constructed in 1858, served as the state's first Capitol building from June 20, 1863 to April 1, 1870.

The Legislature later voted to move the Capitol south to Charleston. A shift in economic and political power from Republican to Democrat and from northern to southern directly influenced the decision to move the seat of government to Charleston. A packed boat floated the state's officials and documents down the Ohio River and east on the Kanawha River to the new Capitol. State officials took up residence in churches, schools and other available buildings while a new, three-story building was being constructed at Capitol and Lee streets in downtown Charleston.

In 1875, a group of Wheeling businessmen enticed the Legislature with a free public building to return the capitol to Wheeling. The government moved by boat back to Wheeling. Officials settled into the Linsly Institute building, and then into a stone structure donated by Wheeling.

Still not satisfied with the choice of Wheeling, the 1877 Legislature decided to ask the citizens of West Virginia to vote on the permanent location of their Capitol. West Virginians were offered the cities of Charleston, Clarksburg, or Martinsburg. They chose Charleston. When the new Capitol was completed in 1885, state officials and records were again transported from Wheeling on the Ohio and Kanawha Rivers, this time on two steamers and a barge. West Virginia's seat of government became known as the "Floating Capitol."

The new building served as the State Capitol for 36 years until, on January 3, 1921, it was destroyed by fire. Thousands of rounds of ammunition confiscated in recent conflicts in the coalfields added fuel to the blaze. A temporary structure of wood and wallboard was hastily erected in 42 days. For the next six years, West Virginia's state government was run from the “Pasteboard Capitol.”

The make-shift Capitol went up in flames on March 2, 1927. After the 1921 fire, the Legislature had created the Capitol Building Commission which authorized construction on the present Capitol on the North bank of the Kanawha River in East Charleston.

The present Capitol took eight years to complete at a cost of just under $10 million. It was constructed in three stages. The west wing was built in 1924 - 1925; the east wing was constructed in 1926 - 1927; and the rotunda connecting the wings was completed in 1930 - 1932. Governor William G. Conley dedicated the new Capitol on the state’s 69th birthday, June 20, 1932.

Cass Gilbert, born in Zanesville, Ohio, in 1859, studied architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In 1912, Gilbert designed the world’s first skyscraper, the Woolworth Building in New York City. His other works include the state capitols of Minnesota and Arkansas, the U.S. Treasury Building and the U. S. Supreme Court Building in Washington, D. C. Gilbert died in 1934, just two years after West Virginia’s State Capitol was completed.

The huge bell resting on the Capitol lawn is a grim reminder of the disastrous fire of 1921 that destroyed the statehouse built in 1885. The bell for years tolled the time for hundreds of townspeople and there was more than a passing touch of sorrow in its fall to the ground, causing a crack extending almost around its surface.

The figure “3” of the clock tower that housed the bell was salvaged from the ruins and presented to the Department of Archives and is now in display in the museum.

Weighing several tons, the bell was cast by the Clinton H. Meneely Company of Troy, N. Y. in 1887. The State Board of Public Works accepted the bell July 7, 1888.

GOVERNORS OF WEST VIRGINIA

ARTHUR INGRAM BOREMAN

The first governor of West Virginia. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he presided over the Wheeling Convention, which formed a reorganized government of Virginia in an effort to remain loyal to the Union. He resigned near the end of his term to serve in the U. S. Senate. (1863-69)

DANIEL DUANE TOMPKINS FARNSWORTH

A strong supporter of statehood, served six days between the resignation of Boreman (who became a U. S. Senator) and the Inauguration of newly-elected Governor Stevenson. (February 26, 1869 - March 4, 1869)

WILLIAM ERSKINE STEVENSON

Encouraged the repeal of loyalty Test Oath laws for former Confederates and restored their right to vote. (1869-71)

JOHN JEREMIAH JACOB

Attempted to settle differences between Union advocates and Confederate sympathizers. During his first term in office, our state constitution was written and adopted. (1871-77)

HENRY MASON MATHEWS

Elected to the State Senate but, because he had served in the Confederate Army, he refused to take the loyalty Test Oath and failed to qualify for his seat. He was elected governor after the loyalty Test Oath laws were repealed. Mathews reportedly called for federal and state troops to put down mine and rail strikes in the state. (1877-81)

JACOB BEESON JACKSON

A partisan Democrat who was an advocate of tax reform. He increased property values to provide funds for state institutions. (1881-85)

EMANUEL WILLIS WILSON

Served almost a year beyond his term due to a disputed election. He opposed unfair railroad practices and general monopolies. (1885-90)

ARETAS BROOKS FLEMING

One of for men who claimed the governor's seat in a disputed election. The Australian ballot law providing for uniform printed ballots was enacted during his term. (1890-93)

WILLIAM ALEXANDER MACCORKLE

Elected governor at the age of 35, tirelessly promoted West Virginia. His term was troubled by a series of labor problems with the railroads and the mines. (1893-97)

GEORGE WESLEY ATKINSON

Asked the Legislature for the eight-hour work day, a child labor law, and proper working conditions for women. (1897-1901)

ALBERT BLAKESLEE WHITE

Obsessed with the state's faulty tax structure, and he pushed for reforms. (1901-05)

WILLIAM MERCER OWENS DAWSON

Proposed a tax program to increase state revenues. Dawson recommended building a new Capitol condemning the old one as a firetrap. (1905-09)

WILLIAM ELLSWORTH GLASSCOCK

Declared martial law when the mine wars began in 1912. Labor unrest continued throughout his term. (1909-13)

HENRY HATFIELD

Pushed for one of the first workmen's compensation laws in the nation. He personally dealt with mine owners and laborers in an attempt to resolve the mine wars. (1913-17)

JOHN JACOB CORNWELL

Created a state police force in response to violence at the mines. Voters approved $50 million to pave dirt roads. (1917-21)

EPHRAIM FRANKLIN MORGAN

Pushed for highway safety laws and established a road commission. During his term, the mine wars came to an end in 1923. (1921-25)

HOWARD MASON GORE

Raised funds for road construction with an increase in the gasoline tax. Voters approved another $35 million for highways. (1925-29)

WILLIAM GUSTAVUS CONLEY

Held office during the depression. Much of the legislation enacted under his administration was concerned with poor economic conditions. (1929-33)

HERMAN GUY KUMP

Put the state and its citizens back on a firm financial footing by adopting the state's first consumer sales tax, a personal income tax and by creating the Department of Public Assistance. (1933-37)

HOMER ADAMS HOLT

Was anti-labor and quickly asserted his authority when unions threatened strikes. Economic conditions improved during his term in office. (1937-41)

MATTHEW MANSFIELD NEELY

An uncompromising Democrat, he was a friend of labor. His administration increased mine inspections, created a Human Relations Commission, and increased welfare grants. (1941-45)

CLARENCE WATSON MEADOWS

Reorganized many state agencies to make them less political and more efficient. He took personal action in resolving strikes and fought for a raise for the state's teachers. (1945-49)

OKEY LEONIDAS PATTERSON

Located the state medical school at Morgantown. He pledged cash bonuses for the veterans of WWI and WWII and passed new taxes on beer, wine and cigarettes to fulfill those pledges. (1949-53)

WILLIAM CASEY MARLAND

Introduced a tax on natural resource industries to fund roads and school programs, but the tax was defeated in the Legislature. He supported school integration. (1953-57)

CECIL HARLAND UNDERWOOD

The Youngest governor to be elected, enacted temporary employment program as mechanization in the coal mines threw thousands into poverty. He battled a Democratic Legislature as the first Republican governor in 24 years. (1957-61)

WILLIAM WALLACE BARRON

Experienced an unemployment decline from more than 100,000 to fewer than 45,000 and the state park system was expanded. (1961-65)

HULLETT CARLSON SMITH

Worked for legislation to control strip mine operations and pollution. State employees were placed under civil service coverage, and the restoration of the Governor's Mansion was completed. (1965-69)

ARCH ALFRED MOORE, JR.

Served two terms marked by advances in road construction, welfare, education and mental health. In 1985, he was elected to an unprecedented third term. (1969-77), (1985-89)

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV

Attracted foreign investors to the state and eliminated an existing sales tax on food. (1977-85)

GASTON CAPERTON III

Sparked a revolution in West Virginia's education system with a nationally recognized education technology program and school building initiative. He also spurred unprecedented job growth and launched an aggressive highway and bridge construction program. (1989-97)

CECIL HARLAND UNDERWOOD

Elected to a second term – youngest and most senior governor to be elected. (1997-2001)

ROBERT E. WISE, JR.

Elected governor November 7, 2000, and sworn into office January 15, 2001. Before becoming the state's chief executive, he served West Virginia's 2nd Congressional District for 18 years. (2001-05)

JOE MANCHIN III

Elected governor November 2, 2004 and sworn into office January 7, 2005. On November 2, 2009, he was elected to fill the late Senator Robert C. Byrd's seat in the U.S. Senate. (2005-10)

EARL RAY TOMBLIN

Became acting governor on November 15, following Joe Manchin's election to the U.S. Senate. On October 4, 2011, he was elected as governor of West Virginia in a special election to fill the unexpired term ending in January 2013. He was reelected on November 6, 2012. (2010-17)

JIM JUSTICE

Elected November 8, 2016 and was sworn into office on January 16, 2017. (2017-Present)

WV HISTORY TIMELINE

- 1671 | The first known white explorers to reach what is now West Virginia were Thomas Batts and Robert Fallam in September, 1671. Their expedition may have ended at the Falls of the Kanawha River and helped establish British claims to the Kanawha and Ohio valleys.

WEST VIRGINIA FACTS

The biggest threat to West Virginia's forests is fire. In a ten-year period from 1986 to 1995, forest fires burned a yearly average of 97,470 acres. The damage during that ten-year period, including damage to homes, structures, and other land, has been computed to be $21,630,577.

The third-largest diamond ever found in the United States, the "Punch" Jones Diamond, was found near Peterstown in Monroe County within one-half mile of the Virginia state line. It has been suggested that the diamond actually occurred in rocks in Virginia and that erosion carried it to the West Virginia side of the state line. There are no other likely sites for diamonds in this state. No other precious gems are known to have been found in West Virginia. Among the few gemstones found in West Virginia are some opal, some types of quartz, and two coal or coal-like minerals, which though softer than most gemstones, are cut, polished, and carved into jewelry.

A variety of the yellow apple, the Golden Delicious, originated in Clay County. The original Grimes Golden Apple Tree was discovered in 1775, near Wellsburg.

FAMOUS WEST VIRGINIANS

JARED MAURICE ARTER (1850 - 1930)

Born into slavery, in Jefferson County, West Virginia. Under the Emancipation Proclamation of 1863, Arter's family was freed from slavery. He received a PhD at Pennsylvania State College, and a BD at Hillsdale College and Chicago Theological Seminary. In 1921 Arter was serving as pastor of Curtis Free Will Baptist Church in Harpers Ferry. He was a Republican, missionary baptist, and mason. Arter is the author of the slave narrative, Echoes From a Pioneer Life.

RANDY BARNES (1966 -)

Perhaps the world's greatest shot-putter. He holds both the outdoor and indoor world records and was a gold medalist in the 1996 Atlanta Olympics. He grew up in St. Albans, Kanawha County.

PEARL BUCK (1892 - 1973)

American novelist, born in Hillsboro, Pocahontas County. She was awarded the Nobel Prize in literature and the Pulitzer Prize for fiction. Many of her more than 85 books sympathetically portray China and its people.

ROBERT CARLYLE BYRD (1917 - 2010)

Elected in 2006 to a ninth consecutive term in the U.S. Senate. He was the Majority Leader of the Senate from 1977 to 1981 and from 1987 to 1989. Byrd was from Sophia, Raleigh County.

JOHN ROBERT CLIFFORD (1848 - 1933)

Born in 1848 in Williamsport, WV. In 1887, he became the first African American attorney admitted to the West Virginia State Bar. In 1898, Clifford won a landmark civil rights and education case before the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. In Williams v. Board of Education, Clifford argued against the Tucker County Board of Education's decision to shorten the school year for African-American school children from nine months to five months, keeping a full term for white students. He practiced law for forty-five years and was active in both state and national politics as a Republican. Clifford was among the founders of the Niagara Movement. In 1906, the Niagara Movement's first American meeting occurred in Harpers Ferry, West Virginia. The Niagara Movement led to the formation of the NAACP a few years later and is considered to be the cornerstone of the modern Civil Rights Movement.

BOB DENVER (1935 - 2005)

HENRY LOUIS "SKIP" GATES, JR. (1950 -)

American literary critic, teacher, historian, filmmaker, and public intellectual who currently serves as the Alphonse Fletcher University Professor and Director of the Hutchins Center for African and African American Research at Harvard University.

HOMER H. HICKAM, JR. (1943 -)

Author of "Rocket Boys: A Memoir," the story of his life in the little town of Coalwood, McDowell County, that inspired the number one bestseller and award-winning movie "October Sky."

KATHERINE COLEMAN GOBLE JOHNSON (1918 - 2020)

African-American mathematician who made contributions to the United States' aeronautics and space programs with the early application of digital electronic computers at NASA. Known for accuracy in computerized celestial navigation, she conducted technical work at NASA that spanned decades. During this time, she calculated the trajectories, launch windows, and emergency back-up return paths for many flights from Project Mercury, including the early NASA missions of John Glenn and Alan Shepard, and the 1969 Apollo 11 flight to the Moon, through the Space Shuttle program. In 2015, Johnson received the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

THOMAS JONATHAN "STONEWALL" JACKSON (1824 - 1863)

General in the Confederacy during the Civil War and is considered among the most skillful tacticians in military history. He was born in Clarksburg (then Virginia).

ANNA JARVIS (1864 - 1948)

Considered the founder of Mother's Day. Following the death of her own mother in 1905, she began campaigning to have one day a year set aside to honor mothers. In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson signed a proclamation declaring Mother's Day a holiday. She was born near Grafton, Taylor County.

JESSE DONALD "DON" KNOTTS (1924 - 2006)

Television and movie actor, was born in Morgantown (Monongalia County) to a farm family he described as "dirt poor." He attended West Virginia University where he majored in speech, hoping to become a teacher. Knotts played the role of Barney Fife on the "Andy Griffith Show."

CAPTAIN JON A. MCBRIDE (1943 -)

Became an astronaut in August 1979, and piloted the Challenger when it was launched on October 5, 1984. He was a Republican candidate for Governor of West Virginia in 1996. McBride was born in Charleston, Kanawha County.

KATHY MATTEA (1959 -)

Country music star and two time grammy award winner, was born in South Charleston and grew up in Cross Lanes, Kanawha County.

JOHN FORBES NASH JR. (1928 - 2015)

Described as a mathematical genius who essentially lost 30 years of his life to paranoid schizophrenia and who reemerged into public glory (once the disease was in remission) to receive the 1994 Nobel Prize in Economics for a brilliant doctoral dissertation begun in 1950, "A Beautiful Mind," a biography of Nash by Sylvia Nasar, inspired a movie of the same name. Nash was born and raised in Bluefield, Mercer County.

BRAD PAISLEY (1972 -)

Grammy award-winning country music star and 2008 Country Music Association Vocalist of the Year. He was born in Glen Dale, Marshall County, where his father retired as assistant fire chief.

The seal of the president of the United States includes an eagle holding arrows and an olive branch. The branch symbolizes the desire for peace, and the arrow represents the ability to wage war. The 50 stars stand for the 50 U.S. states.

The President of the United States is often considered the most powerful elected official in the world. The president leads a nation of great wealth and military strength. Presidents have often provided decisive leadership in times of crisis, and they have shaped many important events in history.

The Constitution of the United States gives the president enormous power. However, it also limits that power. The authors of the Constitution wanted a strong leader as president, but they did not want an all-powerful king. As a result, they divided the powers of the United States government among three branches—executive, legislative, and judicial. The president, who is often called the chief executive, heads the executive branch. Congress represents the legislative branch. The Supreme Court of the United States and other federal courts make up the judicial branch. Congress and the Supreme Court may prevent or end any presidential action that exceeded the limits of the president's powers and trespasses on their authority.

The president has many roles and performs many duties. As chief executive, the president makes sure that federal laws are enforced. As commander in chief of the nation's armed forces, the president is responsible for national defense. As foreign policy director, the president determines U.S. relations with other nations. As legislative leader, the president recommends laws and works to win their passage. As head of a political party, the president helps mold its positions on national and foreign issues. As popular leader, the president tries to inspire the people of the United States to work together to meet the nation's goals. Finally, as chief of state, the president performs a variety of ceremonial duties.

Qualifications: A candidate for the presidency must be a "natural-born" United States citizen of at least 35 years old and must have lived in the United States for at least 14 years.

How nominated: By a national political party convention.

How elected: By a majority vote of the Electoral College.

Term: Four years. May not be elected more than twice.

Succession: If a president dies, resigns, is disabled, or is removed from office, the vice president assumes the office.

Income: Yearly salary of $400,000. Annual allowance of $50,000 and additional allowances for travel, staff and White House Maintenance.

FEDERAL FLAG CODE

The United States flag is considered to be a living symbol representing our country. In addition, the flag represents the many freedoms, rights and responsibilities entrusted to the citizens of this country. Therefore, the proper display and use of the American flag is the responsibility of every American. The flag code is simply a guideline for proper display of, and honor to, our flag. There are no penalties for violation of the provisions of the code. However, state and federal law may apply to specific acts against the flag.

YOU DO

- Display the flag from sunrise to sunset. If displayed after sunset, the flag should be illuminated.
- Raise the flag briskly and lower the flag slowly.
- Fly an all-weather flag, if the weather is bad.
- Fly the flag on all designated days, like the Fourth of July. These are suggested days of historic meaning. You can fly it every day of the year.
- Fly the flag every day at all public buildings.
- Fly the flag where people vote on election day.
- Fly the flag at every school when school is in session.
- Destroy a soiled, faded or badly torn flag in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

DO NOT

- You do not fly the flag upside down unless there is a dire emergency.
- You do not let the flag touch the ground.
- You do not carry the flag flat, or carry things in it. Always fly it aloft and free.
- You do not use the flag as clothing.
- You do not store the flag where it can be soiled or damaged.
- You do not draw on, or otherwise mark the flag.
- You do not use the flag as a uniform. Certain groups may have an American flag patch on their uniform, placed in accordance with the flag code.
- You do not use the flag as a drapery, drawn back or in folds. It will always be allowed to fall free.
- You do not use the flag as a ceiling or table cloth.
- You do not use the flag for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Is it proper to place a Bible, flowers or other objects upon the American flag?

A. No, nothing should ever rest on our flag.

Q. Is it correct to fly the American flag at half-staff on Veterans Day?

A. No, because this day, originally known as Armistice Day, is a day of celebration not for mourning.

Q. If there are two flags on two poles at the entrance of the building, on which side should the American flag be flown?

A. On your left as you walk into the building.

Q. Is it permissible to wear a button or a pin properly depicting the American flag?

A. Yes, these may be worn as a demonstration of your patriotism.

Q. What is the proper method of saluting our flag?

A. Men place their right hand over their heart, holding a hat or cap at the left shoulder if wearing one. Women will place their right hand over their heart. Persons in uniform render the military salute.

Q. Which way do I face to give the salute?

A. To the flag if one is being flown, otherwise to the music. During the National Anthem, hold your salute until the music is finished.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FLAG

The flag of the United States has 13 stripes, seven red and six white, with red on the top and bottom. The stripes represent the 13 original colonies that became the first 13 states.

The blue field (the union) with 50 stars is located next to the staff in the upper left corner of the flag. It extends from the top of the flag to the lower edge of the fourth red stripe. The stars are arranged in alternating rows of six and five, representing the 50 states of the United States.

SYMBOLISM OF THE FLAG

Flags and decorations through the centuries have used colors and symbols to embody the feelings of the people or events that they recognize. Our flag can be said to represent:

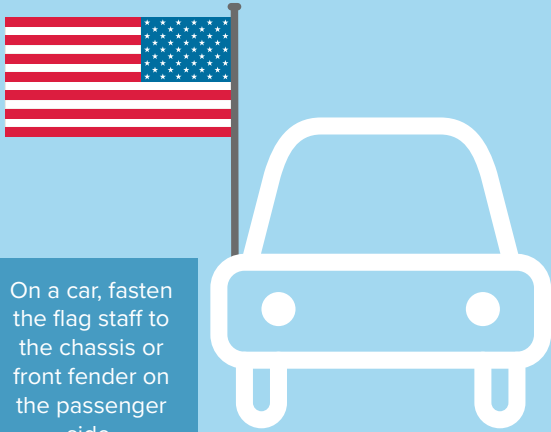

RED Valor and zeal

BLUE Reverence and loyalty (color of the heavens)

WHITE Hope and cleanliness of life

STARS Constellation of the states (symbol of the heavens)

RESPECT FOR THE FLAG

On a car, fasten the flag staff to the chassis or front fender on the passenger side.

From a building, the union will be at the peak, if from a rope, the same, with the union first out of the building.

If the flag is flown over a street, the union should be to the north or east depending on the direction of the street.

If crossed staffs on the wall, fly flag to its own right with its staff over the other.

RIGHT

When marching carry the flag on the right side or centered and in front of other flags. The flag is normally not dipped.

CENTER

Never use the flag for decoration. Use bunting with the blue up, if horizontal, or to its own right if vertical.

Fly the flag above any other flag, or on the flag's own right side if all the same height. If the flags are in a semicircle, fly the American flag above the other, in the center.

On special days, the flag may be flown at half-staff. On Memorial Day it is flown at half-staff until noon, then it is raised to the top of the flag pole.

Keep your flag dry and folded properly into a triangle with the union visible.

Flags displayed at night should be properly illuminated.

The flag shouldn't be flown in inclement weather unless it's an all-weather flag.

When displayed with a speaker's platform, it must be above and behind the speaker. Use bunting, not a flag, to decorate a platform.

On a single flagstaff, fly the American flag at the top, so it will be hoisted first and lowered last.

The flag should not touch anything below it or rest on the ground.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN FLAG

According to popular legend, the first American flag was made by Betsy Ross, a Philadelphia seamstress who was acquainted with George Washington, leader of the Continental Army, and other influential Philadelphians. In May 1776, so the story goes, General Washington and two representatives from the Continental Congress visited Ross at her upholstery shop and showed her a rough design of the flag. Although Washington initially favored using a star with six points, Ross advocated for a five-pointed star, which could be cut with just one quick snip of the scissors, and the gentlemen were won over.

Unfortunately, historians have never been able to verify this charming version of events, although it is known that Ross made flags for the navy of Pennsylvania. The story of Washington's visit to the flag maker became popular about the time of the country's first centennial, after William Canby, a grandson of Ross, told about her role in shaping U.S. history in a speech given at the Philadelphia Historical Society in March 1870.

What is known is that the first unofficial, national flag, called the Grand Union Flag or the Continental Colours, was raised at the request of General Washington near his headquarters outside Boston, Mass., on January 1, 1776. The flag had 13 alternating red and white horizontal stripes and the British Union Flag (a predecessor of the Union Jack) in the canton. Another early flag had a rattlesnake and the motto "Don't Tread on Me."

The first official national flag, also known as the Stars and Stripes, was approved by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777. The blue canton contained 13 stars, representing the original 13 colonies, but the layout varied. Although nobody knows for sure who designed the flag, it may have been Continental Congress member Francis Hopkinson.

After Vermont and Kentucky were admitted to the Union in 1791 and 1792, respectively, two more stars and two more stripes were added in 1795. This 15-star, 15-stripe flag was the "star-spangled banner" that inspired lawyer Francis Scott Key to write the poem that later became the U.S. national anthem.

In 1818, after five more states had gained admittance, Congress passed legislation fixing the number of stripes at 13 and requiring that the number of stars equal the number of states. The last new star, bringing the total to 50, was added on July 4, 1960, after Hawaii became a state.
