

THE GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

West Virginia Blue Book

(Formerly West Virginia Legislative Hand Book and Manual and Official Register)

1935

Compiled and Edited by
CHARLES LIVELY, Clerk of the Senate
Charleston, West Virginia

JARRETT PRINTING COMPANY

CHARLESTON, W. VA.

INTRODUCTION

In this edition of the Blue Book an earnest effort has been made to compile a book suitable mainly for reference purposes. To this end, narrative has been reduced to a minimum and space devoted more particularly to municipal, county, state and federal activities and to matters of historical interest and statistical value.

Much new matter is included. There will be found an index to the Constitution of West Virginia, the first, so far as can be ascertained, that has ever been compiled and printed. There is also included a complete alphabetical roster of both branches of the legislature from the formation of the state to the present date.

The color cut of the state seal which is inserted as a frontispiece is from a drawing made especially for this edition of the Blue Book. It conforms in detail with the description of the original seal as designed by J. H. Diss Debar. The drawing was made after much research, and the seal as printed is a color duplicate of the impression of the original seal which will be found in the Department of Archives and History, at Charleston.

The greatest of care has been exercised in the revision of registers and directories and in the compilation of statistical tables and the various tabulated lists of officials. The form used in the past two books is followed in the present edition, the main headings, insofar as is practicable, being inserted strictly in alphabetical order.

Grateful acknowledgement is made of the aid of public officials and all others who have in various ways contributed so much toward the compilation of this edition of the Blue Book.

CHARLES LIVELY.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Under Chapter 30, article one, Code 1931, all boards of examination and registration, are governed by the following general rules, unless otherwise specifically provided:

Each board is required to adopt an official seal, make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as it deems best, and hold at least two meetings each year.

Each board is given power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and its officers have power to administer oaths.

Every applicant for license or registration must transmit with his application an examination fee of twenty dollars, unless a different fee is especially provided by law. Each board is allowed to charge five dollars for each license or certificate issued and the same sum for every duplicate thereof.

All licenses or certificates of registration are required to be numbered serially and to be signed by a majority of the members of the board.

Each board has power to revoke, for cause, the certificate it issues.

An applicant who has been refused a license, or a licensee whose certificate has been revoked, has the right of appeal from the action of the board to the Circuit Court of the county in which he resides.

Members, unless otherwise specified, are allowed ten ($10.00) dollars per day for each day actually spent in attending sessions of the board or of its committees and in necessary travel, and are entitled to reimbursement for all actual and necessary expenses in carrying out their official duties.

Each board is required to make a report annually to the Governor on or before the first day of January.

The secretary of each board is required to prepare and maintain a complete roster of all persons licensed or registered by it.

ARTICLE I

Relations to the Government of the United States

1. The State of West Virginia is, and shall remain, one of the United States of America. The Constitution of the United States of America, and the laws and treaties made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land.

Internal Government and Police

2. The government of the United States is a government of enumerated powers, and all powers not delegated to it, nor inhibited to the States, are reserved to the States or to the people thereof. Among the powers so reserved to the States is the exclusive regulation of their own internal government and police; and it is the high and solemn duty of the several departments of government, created by this Constitution, to guard and protect the people of this State from all encroachments upon the rights so reserved.

Continuity of Constitutional Operation

3. The provisions of the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, are operative alike in a period of war as in times of peace, and any departure therefrom, or violation thereof, under the plea of necessity, or any other plea, is subversive of good government, and tends to anarchy and despotism.

Representatives to Congress

4. For the election of representatives to congress, the State shall be divided into districts, corresponding in number with the representatives to which it may be entitled; which districts shall be formed of contiguous counties, and be compact. Each district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of population, to be determined according to the rule prescribed in the Constitution of the United States.

ARTICLE II

The State

1. The territory of the following counties, formerly parts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, shall constitute and form the State of West Virginia, viz:

The counties of Barbour, Berkeley, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Fayette, Gilmer, Grant, Greenbrier, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Marion, Marshall, Mason, McDowell, Mercer, Mineral, Monongalia, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Ohio, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Preston, Putnam, Raleigh, Randolph, Ritchie, Roane, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Webster, Wetzel, Wirt, Wood and Wyoming. The State of West Virginia includes the bed, bank and shores of the Ohio River, and so much of the Big Sandy River as was formerly included in the Commonwealth of Virginia; in all territorial rights and property in, and jurisdiction over the same, heretofore reserved by, and vested in, the Commonwealth of Virginia, are vested in and shall hereafter be exercised by the State of West Virginia. And such parts of the said beds, banks and shores as lie opposite, and adjoining the several counties of this State, shall form parts of said several counties respectively.

[All of the territory of West Virginia was taken from the Commonwealth of Virginia and in the first constitution forty-four of the above named counties were designated as forming the State of West Virginia, and in addition the counties of Berkeley, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Morgan and Pendleton were to be admitted should the constitution be adopted by a vote of the people of the districts comprising the counties. The districts adopted the constitution and these six counties became part of the state.

The remaining five counties were created by acts of the legislature as follows: Mineral County, from Hampshire County, on February 1, 1866; Grant County, from Hardy County, on February 14, 1866; Lincoln County, from parts of Cabell, Putnam, Kanawha and Boone Counties, on February 23, 1867; Summers County, from parts of Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer and Fayette Counties, on February 27, 1871; and Mingo County, from Logan County, on February 23, 1895.]

Powers of Government in Citizens

2. The powers of government reside in all the citizens of the State, and can be rightfully exercised only in accordance with their will and appointment.

Requisites of Citizenship

3. All persons residing in this State, born, or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall be citizens of this State.

Equal Representation

4. Every citizen shall be entitled to equal representation in the government, and, in all apportionments of representation, equality of numbers of those entitled thereto shall, as far as practicable, be preserved.

Provisions Regarding Property

5. No distinction shall be made between resident aliens and citizens as to the acquisition, tenure, disposition or descent of property.

Treason, What Constitutes—Penalty

6. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. Treason shall be punished according to the character of the acts committed, by the infliction of one, or more, of the penalties of death, imprisonment or fine, as may be prescribed by law.

“Montani Semper Liberi”—State Seal

7. The present seal of the State, with its motto, “Montani Semper Liberi,” shall be the great seal of the State of West Virginia, and shall be kept by the Secretary of State, to be used by him officially, as directed by law.

Writs, Commissions, Official Bonds—Indictments

8. Writs, grants and commissions, issued under the authority of this State, shall run in the name of, and official bonds shall be made payable to the State of West Virginia. Indictments shall conclude, “Against the peace and dignity of the State.”

ARTICLE III*Bill of Rights

1. All men are, by nature, equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot, by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity, namely: the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and of pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.

Magistrates Servants of People

2. All power is vested in, and consequently derived from the people. Magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times amenable to them.

Rights Reserved to People

3. Government is instituted for the common benefit, protection and security of the people, nation or community. Of all its various forms, that is the best which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secured against the danger of maladministration; and when any government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community has an indubitable, inalienable and indefeasible right to reform, alter or abolish it in such manner as shall be judged most conducive to the public weal.

Writ of Habeas Corpus

4. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended. No person shall be held to answer for treason, felony or other crime, not cognizable by a justice, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury. No bill of attainder, ex-post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of a contract, shall be passed.

Excessive Bail Not Required

5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted. Penalties shall be proportioned to the character and degree of the offense. No person shall be transported out of, or forced to leave the State for any offense committed within the same; nor shall any person, in any criminal case, be compelled to be a witness against himself, or be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty for the same offense.

Unreasonable Search and Seizure Prohibited

6. The rights of the citizens to be secure in their houses, persons, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated. No warrant shall issue except upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, or the person or thing to be seized.

Freedom of Speech and Press Guaranteed

7. No law abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, shall be passed; but the Legislature may, by suitable penalties, restrain the publication or sale of obscene books, papers, or pictures, and provide for the punishment of libel, and defamation of character, and for the recovery, in civil actions, by the aggrieved party, of suitable damages for such libel, or defamation.

Relating to Civil Suits for Libel

8. In prosecutions and civil suits for libel, the truth may be given in evidence; and if it shall appear to the jury, that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the verdict shall be for the defendant.

Private Property, How Taken

9. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use, without just compensation; nor shall the same be taken by any company, incorporated for the purpose of internal improvement, until just compensation shall have been paid, or secured to be paid, to the owner; and when private property shall be taken, or damaged, for public use, or for the use of such corporations, the compensation to the owner shall be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by general law: Provided, That when required by either of the parties, such compensation shall be ascertained by an impartial jury of twelve freeholders.

Safeguards for Life, Liberty and Property

10. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, and the judgment of his peers.

Political Tests Condemned

11. Political tests, requiring persons, as a prerequisite to the enjoyment of their civil and political rights, to purge themselves by their own oaths, of past alleged offenses, are repugnant to the principles of free government, and are cruel and oppressive. No religious or political test oath shall be required as a prerequisite or qualification to vote, serve as a juror, sue, plead, appeal, or pursue any profession or employment. Nor shall any person be deprived by law of any right, or privilege, because of any act done prior to the passage of such law.

Military Subordinate to Civil Power

12. Standing armies, in time of peace, should be avoided as dangerous to liberty. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power; and no citizen, unless engaged in the military service of the State, shall be tried or punished by any military court, for any offense that is cognizable by the civil courts of the State. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, except in the manner to be prescribed by law.

Right of Jury Trial

13. [The Senate is now composed of thirty, and the House of Delegates of ninety-four members.]

Senators and Delegates—Terms of Office

The Senators first elected shall divide themselves into two classes, one Senator from every district being assigned to each class; and of these classes, the first to be designated by lot in such manner as the Senate may determine, shall hold their seats for two years, and the second for four years, so that after the first election, one-half of the Senators shall be elected biennially.

Division of State Into Senatorial Districts

4. For the election of Senators, the State shall be divided into twelve Senatorial Districts, which number shall not be diminished, but may be increased as hereinafter provided. Every district shall elect two Senators, but, where the district is composed of more than one county, both shall not be chosen from the same county. The districts shall be compact, formed of contiguous territory, bounded by county lines, and, as nearly as practicable, equal in population, to be ascertained by the census of the United States. After every such census, the Legislature shall alter the Senatorial Districts, so far as may be necessary to make them conform to the foregoing provision.

[There are now fifteen senatorial districts, as provided by Acts 1901, Ch. 101.]

Dividing the population of every Delegate District, and of every county not included in a delegate district, by the ratio thus ascertained, there shall be assigned to each a number of Delegates equal to the quotient obtained by this division, excluding the fractional remainder. The additional Delegates necessary to make up the number of which the House is to consist, shall then be assigned to those Delegate Districts, and counties not included in a Delegate District, which would otherwise have the largest fractions unrepresented; but every Delegate District and county not included in a Delegate District shall be entitled to at least one Delegate.

9. Until a new apportionment shall be declared, the apportionment of Delegates to the counties not included in Delegate Districts, and to Barbour, Harrison and Taylor counties, embraced in such district, shall be as follows:

To Barbour, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Doddridge, Fayette, Hampshire, Hancock, Jackson, Lewis, Logan, Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer, Mineral, Morgan, Grant, Hardy, Lincoln, Pendleton, Putnam, Roane, Gilmer, Taylor, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel, Wirt, Pocahontas, Summers and Raleigh counties, one Delegate each.

To Berkeley, Harrison, Jefferson, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia and Preston counties, two Delegates each.

To Kanawha County, three Delegates.

To Ohio County, four Delegates.

[Many changes have been made in this apportionment. Kanawha County, the largest in population, now has eight delegates.]

*The Budget System

51. The Legislature shall not appropriate any money out of the treasury except in accordance with the following provisions:

*This section, known as "The Budget Amendment," added to Article VI, was proposed by Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, adopted May 23, 1917, (Acts 1917, Extraordinary Session), and was ratified at the general election in 1918. Vote on the amendment: For ratification, 51,405; against ratification, 26,651; majority, 24,754.

Sub-Section A

Every appropriation bill shall be either a budget bill, or a supplementary appropriation bill, as hereinafter mentioned.

Sub-Section B

First: Within ten days after the convening of the Legislature, unless such time shall be extended by the Legislature for the sessions at which the budget is to be submitted, the board of public works, which shall consist of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of free schools and commissioner of agriculture, shall submit to the Legislature two budgets, one for each of the ensuing fiscal years. Each budget shall contain a complete plan of proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the particular fiscal year to which it relates; and shall show the estimated surplus or deficit of revenues at the end of such year. Accompanying each budget shall be a statement showing: (1) the revenues and expenditures for each of the two fiscal years next preceding; (2) the current assets, liabilities, reserves and surplus or deficit of the State; (3) the debts and funds of the State; (4) an estimate of the State's financial condition as of the beginning and end of each of the fiscal years covered by the two budgets above provided; (5) any explanation the board of public works may desire to make as to the important features of any budget and any suggestion as to methods for the reduction or increase of the State's revenue.

Second: Each budget shall be divided into two parts, and the first part shall be designated "Governmental Appropriations" and shall embrace an itemized estimate of the appropriations: (1) for the Legislature as certified to the board of public works in the manner hereinafter provided; (2) for the executive department; (3) for the judiciary department, as provided by law, certified to the Governor by the auditor; (4) to pay and discharge the principal and interest of any debt of the State of West Virginia hereafter created in conformity with the Constitution and all laws enacted in pursuance thereof; (5) for the salaries payable by the State under the Constitution and laws of the State; (6) for the aid of public schools in conformity with the laws of the State; (7) for such other purposes as are set forth in the Constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof.

Third: The second part shall be designated "General Appropriations," and shall include all other estimates of appropriations.

The board of public works shall deliver to the presiding officer of each House the budgets and a bill for all the proposed appropriations of the budgets clearly itemized and classified; and the presiding officer of each House shall promptly cause said bill to be introduced therein, and such bill shall be known as the "Budget Bill." The board of public works may, before final action thereon by the Legislature, amend or supplement either of said budgets to correct an oversight or in case of an emergency, with the consent of the Legislature by delivering such an amendment or supplement to the presiding officer of both Houses; and such amendment or supplement shall thereby become a part of said budget bill as an addition to the items of said bill or as a modification of or a substitute for any item of said bill such amendment or supplement may affect.

The Legislature shall not amend the budget bill so as to create a deficit but may amend the bill by increasing or diminishing the items therein relating to the Legislature, and by increasing the items therein relating to the judiciary, but except as hereinbefore specified, may not alter the said bill except to strike out or reduce items therein: Provided, however, That the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office; and such bill when and as passed by both houses shall be a law immediately without further action by the governor.

Fourth: The governor and such representatives of the boards, officers and commissions of the State expending or applying for State's money as have been designated by the board of public works for this purpose, shall have the right, and when requested by either House of the Legislature it shall be their duty to appear and be heard with respect to any budget bill during the consideration thereof, and to answer inquiries relative thereto.

Sub-Section C—Supplementary Appropriation Bills

Neither House shall consider other appropriations until the budget bill has been finally acted upon by both Houses, and no such other appropriations shall be valid except in accordance with the provisions following:

(1) Every such appropriation shall be embodied in a separate bill limited to some single work, object or purpose therein stated and called herein a supplementary appropriation bill; (2) each supplementary appropriation bill shall provide the revenue necessary to pay the appropriation thereby made by a tax, direct or indirect, to be laid and collected as shall be directed in said bill unless it appears from such budget that there is sufficient revenue available; (3) no supplementary appropriation bill shall become a law unless it be passed in each house by a vote of a majority of the members present, and the yeas and nays recorded on its final passage. Each supplementary appropriation bill shall be presented to the governor of the State as provided in section fourteen of article seven of the Constitution and thereafter all the provisions of said section shall apply.

Nothing in this amendment shall be construed as preventing the Legislature from passing in time of war an appropriation bill to provide for the payment of any obligation of the State of West Virginia within the protection of section ten of article one of the Constitution of the United States.

Sub-Section D—General Provisions

First: If the "Budget Bill" shall not have been finally acted upon by the Legislature three days before the expiration of its regular session, the governor may, and it shall be his duty to issue a proclamation extending the session for such further period as may, in his judgment, be necessary for the passage of such bill; but no other matter than such bill shall be considered during such extended session except a provision for the cost thereof.

Second: The board of public works for the purpose of making up its budgets shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to require from the proper State officials, including herein all executive departments, all executive and administrative officers, bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies expending or supervising the expenditure of, and all institutions applying for state monies and appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as said board shall direct. The estimates for the legislative department, certified by the presiding officer of each House, of the judiciary, as provided by law, certified by the auditor, and for the public schools, as provided by law, shall be transmitted to the board of public works, in such form and at such times as it shall direct, and shall be included in the budget.

The board of public works may provide for public hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of all agencies, and all institutions applying for state monies. After such public hearings it may, in its discretion, revise all estimates except those for the legislative and judiciary departments, and for the public schools as provided by law.

Third: The Legislature may, from time to time, enact such laws, not inconsistent with this section, as may be necessary and proper to carry out its provisions.

Fourth: In the event of any inconsistency between any of the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of the Constitution, except amendments thereto heretofore made and ratified by the people, the provisions of this section shall prevail. But nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the governor from calling extraordinary sessions of the Legislature, as provided by section seven of article seven, or as preventing the Legislature at such extraordinary sessions from considering any emergency appropriation or appropriations.

If any item of any appropriation bill passed under the provisions of this section shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the legality of the bill or of any other item of such bill or bills.

The returns of every election for the above named officers shall be sealed up and transmitted by the returning officers to the Secretary of State, directed to "the Speaker of the House of Delegates," who shall, immediately after the organization of the House, and before proceeding to business, open and publish the same, in the presence of a majority of each house of the Legislature, which shall for that purpose assemble in the Hall of the House of Delegates. The person having the highest number of votes for either of said offices, shall be declared duly elected thereto; but if two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the Legislature shall, by joint vote, choose one of such persons for said office. Contested elections for the office of Governor shall be determined by both houses of the Legislature by joint vote, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by House Joint Resolution of February 15, 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 460) and ratified at the general election in 1902. The effect of the amendment was to strike out the following at the end of the original section: "The Secretary of State shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall continue in office, unless sooner removed, until the expiration of the official term of the Governor by whom he shall have been appointed." For the vote on the adoption of the amendment, see note following section 2.]

[The amendment of this section was proposed by House Joint Resolution of February 15, 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 460) and ratified at the general election in 1902. The section, prior to being amended, read as follows: "Neither the Governor, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer, nor Attorney General, shall hold any other office during the term of his service. The Governor shall be ineligible to said office for the four years next succeeding the term for which he was elected." For the vote on the adoption of the amendment, see note following section 2.]

Chief Executive—Powers

5. The chief executive power shall be vested in the Governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Governor's Message

6. The Governor shall at the commencement of each session, give to the Legislature information by message, of the condition of the State, and shall recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient. He shall accompany his message with a statement of all money received and paid out by him from any funds, subject to his order, with vouchers therefor; and at the commencement of each regular session, present estimates of the amount of money required by taxation for all purposes.

Extraordinary Legislative Sessions

7. The Governor may on extraordinary occasions convene, at his own instance, the Legislature; but when so convened it shall enter upon no business except that stated in the proclamation by which it was called together.

Governor to Nominate Certain Officers

8. The Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, (a majority of all the Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays) appoint all officers whose offices are established by this Constitution, or shall be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise provided for, and no such officer shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature.

Recess Vacancies—How Filled

9. In case of a vacancy, during the recess of the Senate, in any office which is not elective, the Governor shall, by appointment, fill such vacancy, until the next meeting of the Senate, when he shall make a nomination for such office, and the person so nominated, when confirmed by the Senate (a majority of all the Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays) shall hold his office during the remainder of the term, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. No person, after being rejected by the Senate, shall be again nominated for the same office, during the same session, unless at the request of the Senate; nor shall such person be appointed to the same office during the recess of the Senate.

Governor's Power of Removal

10. The Governor shall have power to remove any officer whom he may appoint in case of incompetency, neglect of duty, gross immorality, or malfeasance in office; and he may declare his office vacant and fill the same as herein provided in other cases of vacancy.

Remission of Fines and Penalties By Governor

11. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and penalties in such cases and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; to commute capital punishment and, except where the prosecution has been carried on by the House of Delegates, to grant reprieves and pardons after conviction; but he shall communicate to the Legislature at each session the particulars of every case of fine or penalty remitted, of punishment commuted and of reprieve or pardon granted, with his reasons therefor.

Official Bond of State Officers

When any State officer has executed his official bond, the Governor shall, for such causes and in such manner as the Legislature may direct, require of such officer reasonable additional security; and if the security is not given as required, his office shall be declared vacant, in such manner as may be provided by law.

How Bills Become Laws

14. Every bill passed by the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve, he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the members elected to that House agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to that House, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. But in all such cases, the vote of each House shall be determined by yeas and nays to be entered on the journal. Any bill which shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall be filed with his objections in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after such adjournment, or become a law.

Respecting Appropriations of Monies

15. Every bill passed by the Legislature making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, shall before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he disapproves the bill, or any item or appropriation therein contained, he shall communicate such disapproval with his reasons therefor to the House in which the bill originated; but all items not disapproved shall have the force and effect of law according to the original provisions of the bill. Any item or items so disapproved shall be void, unless re-passed by a majority of each House according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the preceding section in reference to other bills.

Vacancy In Governorship, How Filled

16. In case of the death, conviction on impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, or other disability of the Governor, the President of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the President of the Senate, for any of the above named causes, shall become incapable of performing the duties of Governor, the same shall devolve upon the Speaker of the House of Delegates; and in all other cases where there is no one to act as Governor, one shall be chosen by joint vote of the Legislature. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Governor before the first three years of the term shall have expired, a new election for Governor shall take place to fill the vacancy.

Vacancies In Other Executive Departments

17. If the office of Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, State Superintendent of Free Schools, or Attorney General, shall become vacant by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to fill the same by appointment, and the appointee shall hold his office until his successor shall be elected and qualified in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The subordinate officers of the executive department and the officers of all public institutions of the State shall keep an account of all monies received or disbursed by them, respectively, from all sources, and for every service performed, and make a semi-annual report thereof to the Governor under oath or affirmation; and any officer who shall wilfully make a false report shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by House Joint Resolution of February 15, 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 460) and ratified at the general election in 1902. The only change in the original section was the insertion of the words "Secretary of State" in the first line, and by substitution of the word "prescribed" for the word "provided." For the vote on the adoption of the amendment, see note following section 2 of this article.]

Executive Heads To Make Reports

18. The subordinate officers of the Executive Department and the officers of all the public institutions of the State, shall, at least ten days preceding each regular session of the Legislature, severally report to the Governor, who shall transmit such report to the Legislature; and the Governor may at any time require information in writing, under oath, from the officers of his department, and all officers and managers of State institutions, upon any subject relating to the condition, management and expenses of their respective offices.

Salaries of Officials

19. The officers named in this article shall receive for their services a salary to be established by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during their official terms, and they shall not, after the expiration of the terms of those in office at the adoption of this amendment, receive to their own use any fees, costs, perquisites of office or other compensation, and all fees that may hereafter be payable by law, for any service performed by any officer provided for in this article of the Constitution, shall be paid in advance into the State treasury.

[This section, prior to amendment, read as follows: "The Governor shall receive for his services, a salary of twenty-seven hundred dollars per annum and no additional emolument, allowance or perquisite shall be paid or made to him, on any account. ### Provision for Filling Supreme Court Vacancies

7. If from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the supreme court of appeals, the Governor shall issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy at the next general election for the residue of the term, and in the meantime he shall fill such vacancy by appointment until a judge is elected and qualified. ### Land Books—Taxes

6. It shall be the duty of every owner of land, or of an undivided interest therein, to have such land, or such undivided interest therein, entered on the land books of the county in which it, or a part of it, is situated, and to cause himself to be charged with taxes legally levied thereon and pay the same. When, for any five successive years, the owner of any tract of land, or undivided interest therein, shall not have been charged on such land books with state, county and district taxes thereon, then, by operation hereof, the land, or undivided interest therein, shall be forfeited and title vested in the state. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner of such land, or of any undivided interest therein, shall have been charged with state, county and district taxes on any part of such land, such part thereof, or undivided interest therein, shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein, at the time of the forfeiture thereof, who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability, have the land, or such interest, charged on such land books, with all state and other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be, chargeable on the land, or interest therein, for the year one thousand eight hundred sixty-three, and every year thereafter, with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum, and pay all taxes and interest thereon for such years, and thereby redeem the land or interest therein: Provided, That such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited.

[This section, prior to its amendment, read as follows: "It shall be the duty of every owner of land to have it entered on the land books of the county in which it, or a part of it, is situated, and to cause himself to be charged with the taxes thereon, and pay the same. When for any five successive years after the year 1869, the owner of any tract of land containing one thousand acres or more, shall not have been charged on such books with State tax on said land, then by operation hereof, the land shall be forfeited and the title thereto vest in the State. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner shall have been charged with State tax on any part of the land, such part thereof shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein at the time of the forfeiture thereof, who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability, have the land, or such interest charged on such books, with all State and other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be, chargeable on the land, or interest therein for the year 1863, and every year thereafter with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and pay all taxes and interest thereon for all such years and thereby redeem the land or interest therein: Provided, Such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited."

The amendment as set forth above was proposed by House Joint Resolution No. 4, adopted January 22, 1934 (Acts Second Ex. Sess. 1933, p. 583) and was ratified at the general election in 1934. Vote on the amendment: For ratification, 257,090; against ratification, 177,796; majority, 79,294.]

No person, not a member of the Senate, shall, while within the chamber when the Senate is in session, seek in any manner whatsoever to influence the vote or opinion of any Senator on any subject of legislative consideration, under penalty of disbarment from the chamber for the remainder of the legislative session. No attache of the Senate shall, at any time, engage in such activity, under penalty of immediate dismissal by the Committee on Rules.

Duties of the Clerk—Official Journal

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 6 x 9 heavy weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof signed by the President and Clerk of the Senate certifying that the same is the official Journal of the Senate. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History and one with the Clerk of the House of Delegates.

7. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates may interchange messages between the hours of adjournment and that of meeting on the following day, so that said message may be read immediately after the usual order of the day.

Powers of the Senate Over Its Members

8. A majority of the Senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three members may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the Senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the Senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No Senator shall be taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 25.)

15. If a member be called to order, for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them have been taken.

Reference to Committees

39. All bills reported from the House of Delegates shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading. All bills introduced on leave shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry, and if the committee report a bill different from the one introduced such bill shall be received and treated by the Senate as the original bill, and shall be read a first time and printed, unless in any of the aforesaid cases the Senate shall direct otherwise.

40. On each reading of a bill, the Clerk shall state whether it is the first, second or third reading of such bill.

41. On the demand of any two members when a bill is being read for amendment, it shall be read section by section, and when the amendments which may be moved shall be disposed of, the question, unless the Senate otherwise order, shall be taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed and read the third time. If a bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments thereto have been made, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform to the amendments. The bill shall then be re-printed, and shall be the engrossed bill. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill. All Senate bills so ordered shall be jacketed, endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the House and returned to the Senate without amendments, or if amended, and the amendments, should be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a House bill on second reading if the same be amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full in typewriting on slips of paper, and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the House, and all amendments shall appear in the Senate Journal.

42. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of its passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

Messages

43. Messages may be introduced in any stage of business except when a question is being put by the presiding officer, while the yeas and nays are being called by the Clerk, or while the ballots are being counted.

Passage of Bills and Joint Resolutions

44. When a bill or joint resolution is put upon its passage, the President shall propound the question, "Shall the bill (or joint resolution as the case may be) pass?" On the passage of every bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal. When the bill is on a second reading, and the question is upon striking out, the President shall propound the question: "Shall these words be stricken out?"

Motions

45. When the question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, for the previous question, to lie on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to adjourn the question to a different day, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged.

46. On the first reading of a bill, a motion to reject the bill shall be in order.

Adverse Report by Committee

47. If a Committee shall have reported adversely to a bill, the President, immediately after the report of said committee is read, shall put the question: "Shall the bill be rejected?", which question shall have precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn.

Reconsideration of Vote

48. The question being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the session be drawn again into debate unless reconsidered, and it shall be in order to reconsider any vote only within two legislative days next after the one upon which such vote was taken. A motion to reconsider shall be in order only when made by a Senator who voted with the prevailing side, and when the vote was not taken by yeas and nays all Senators will be conclusively presumed to have voted with the prevailing side.

49. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee, and to a standing committee, the question in reference to the standing committee shall be first put.

Division of the Question

50. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question, but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition; nor prevent a subsequent motion to simply strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

51. In filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

Previous Question

52. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions or may be made to embrace and authorize motions and amendments and include the bill to its engrossment and third reading and then, on renewal and second of said motion, to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order pending a motion for or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the President to entertain and submit a motion to commit with or without instructions to a standing or select committee; and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second and third reading of a bill.

A call of the Senate shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the President that a quorum is not present.

All incidental questions or orders arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether an appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Yeas and Nays

53. When the yeas and nays are ordered, or a call of the Senate is directed, the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order.

54. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the Journal and any member may enter any protest on the Journal upon the determination of any question. After the yeas and nays shall have been taken, and before they are counted or entered on the Journal, the Clerk shall read over the names of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, at which time any member shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name.

55. When a bill or joint resolution passed by the Senate shall be amended by the House of Delegates, the question on agreeing to the bill or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on by yeas and nays in the Senate, and the result entered upon its Journal. In all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 31.)

56. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.

57. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered upon the Journal.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 44.)

Executive Session

58. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, a future day shall be assigned, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise, for taking them into consideration.

59. When acting on the nominations of the Governor, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk, his assistants, the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper, and all such officers shall be sworn to secrecy.

60. All confidential communications made by the Governor to the Senate and all proceedings thereon, shall be by the members thereof kept secret until the Senate shall, by unanimous affirmative vote of the members present, remove the injunction of secrecy.

61. All information and remarks touching the character or qualification of any person nominated by the Governor to office, shall be kept secret. The Legislative proceedings and the executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept and recorded in separate books.

Constitutional Amendment

62. When an amendment to be proposed to the Constitution is under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate shall not be requisite to decide any question for amendments, or extending to the merits, being short of the final question.

Adjournment

63. When the Senate adjourns each day, it shall stand adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M. the next day, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

64. When the Senate adjourns each day, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

Parliamentary Practice

65. In all cases not provided for by the Rules of the Senate or the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates, the Senate shall be governed by the practice in the House of Representatives of the United States.

Suspension of Rule

66. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate present.

Withdrawal of Bills from Committee

67. Any bill, resolution or business may, by a vote of the majority of the members present, be withdrawn from the committee to which it had been referred or be taken from the table, and placed upon the regular or special calendar of the Senate in such order of business as the Senate may direct.

2. In the election of officers by the House, the vote shall be given viva voce, and a majority of the whole number of votes given, a quorum being present, shall be necessary to elect. If, upon any vote there be no election, the person having the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and any votes thereafter given to such person shall not be taken into the counting to effect the result in any way. But if two or more have the lowest and equal number of votes they may be voted for again. No question before the House, or in committee of the whole, shall be voted on by ballot.

Duties and Rights of Speaker

3. The Speaker shall take the chair on each legislative day precisely at the hour to which the house shall have adjourned; shall immediately call the members to order and after prayer, if a quorum is present, proceed to the order of business.

4. When two or more members arise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

6. The Speaker shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House when demanded by any ten members. He may speak to questions of order in preference to other members, and may make the concluding speech on any appeal from his decision, notwithstanding, he may have before spoken on the question; but no other members shall speak more than once on such appeal without leave of the House.

32. When a member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise in his place and respectfully address the presiding officer as "Mr. Speaker," and upon being recognized, shall proceed, confining himself to the question under debate, avoiding all personalities and indecorous or disrespectful language.

When a member arises and addresses the Chair, the Speaker may recognize him by name; but no member in debate shall designate another by name.

Recognition by the Chair

33. When two or more members shall rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the one who is to speak first, and his decision shall be final and not open to debate or appeal. However, in all other cases the member who shall rise first and addresses the Chair, shall be first recognized.

38. No member shall speak except in his place, and not more than twice on a question, except by leave of the House. And if a question be pending at the time of an adjournment and is renewed on the succeeding day, no member who shall have spoken twice on the preceding day shall be permitted again to speak without leave of the House. The House by majority vote may limit debate on any question.

Members Not to Be Disturbed While Speaking

Putting Question; Division

41. All questions shall be put distinctly in this form, to wit: "As many as are in favor (as the question may be) say 'Aye,'" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are opposed say, 'No'." If the Speaker be in doubt as to the result, or if a division is called for by any member, the House shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and be counted and afterward those in the negative. The count may be made by the Speaker, or if he so directs, by the Clerk, or two members, one from each side, to be named for that purpose by the Speaker. When the result is ascertained the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House. ### Yeas and Nays

42. On the passage of every bill, and joint resolution, and when the yeas and nays on any question are called for by one-tenth of those present, the Speaker shall direct the roll to be called, and every member present shall answer aye or no, when his name is called, unless excused. Before the result is announced the Clerk shall read to the House the names of those who voted in the affirmative, and then those who voted in the negative, at which time any member may correct a mistake committed in taking down his vote. The result shall then be announced, and the yeas and nays entered on the Journal, but if the House so orders, the announcement of the result and the entry of the yeas and nays upon the Journal may be postponed to the succeeding day, with liberty to absent members at any time before the result is announced by the Speaker, to appear and vote aye or no, in the presence of the House; and any member may, in the presence of the House, change his vote before the result is announced. The Journal shall also show those absent and not voting.

Upon calls of the House, in taking the yeas and nays, the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, except the Speaker shall be called last.

43. Members may pair on any question by filing a signed statement of the same with the Clerk, who shall read the same to the House before the vote is taken. A blank form of pair for use of members shall be provided by the Clerk. No pair shall be recognized unless made in person by the member signing the same, nor unless one or both of the parties thereto are absent.

Division of Question

44. Any member may call for a division of any question before the vote thereon is taken, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition will remain for the decision of the House, but the member calling for the division of a question shall state in what manner he proposes it shall be divided. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor motion to strike out and insert.

Calling of Yeas and Nays

45. No member or any person shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called.

Tie Vote Loses Question

7. To commit to a standing committee.
8. To commit to a select committee.

A motion to reconsider shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House, and if the House decides to reconsider, any member may thereafter call the subject up for consideration. The question being moved the Speaker shall say, "Is the motion sustained?" and those favoring the motion shall rise. If a sufficient number arise, the previous question shall be thereby seconded, and the question shall then be put in this form, "Shall the main question be now put?" If this question be decided in the affirmative by a majority of the members voting, a quorum being present, it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been asked and ordered, except when the motion applies to the main question, the member in charge of the measure under consideration, shall have five minutes to close the discussion before the vote is taken; and when the motion applies to an amendment, the person proposing the amendment shall have three minutes to close the discussion on the amendment. Should the previous question be decided in the negative the House shall proceed with the matter before it as though the previous question had not been moved.

When a member moves the previous question he shall specifically state in his motion whether it shall apply to the main question and the amendments or to the amendment or amendments only.

The previous question shall not be admitted in the Committee of the Whole.

They shall be presented in triplicate and copies shall be for the same purpose as that of bills. When the proper order of business is reached, the Clerk shall proceed in the same manner as if they were introduced from the floor. This rule does not deny a member the right to introduce a resolution from the floor in case of urgency. The different classes of resolutions shall be numbered by the Clerk and entered in full in the Journal.

Action on Resolutions

110. All joint resolutions shall be referred to the appropriate committee, and when any other resolution is presented, containing no reference of the subject thereof to a committee, it shall lie over for one day, to come up under the ninth order of business unless a majority of the House orders otherwise.

Petitions

Each member upon filing any such petition, remonstrance or other paper shall endorse thereon his name and if not so endorsed it shall not be received. The Journal shall show the name of the member presenting such paper, a brief resume of the contents thereof and the disposition made of same.

115. Amendments shall be read by the Clerk and stated by the Speaker before being acted upon.

By Striking Out Enacting Clause

116. A motion to amend by striking out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence over another motion to amend, and, if carried, the bill or resolution is rejected.

Amendment to An Amendment

117. A motion to amend a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of no other motion to amend will be in order. But pending such amendment, a motion to amend in the nature of a substitute, and a motion to amend that substitute, may be received, but shall not be voted upon until the original matter is perfected.

Amendment to Have Precedence Over Substitute

121. No amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill after engrossment.

Agreeing to Senate Amendments

When a House bill or House joint resolution shall be amended by the Senate, the question on agreeing to the bill or resolution as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays, and the result entered on the Journal, and in such a case the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House shall be necessary.—(Const., Art. 7, Sec. 31.)

Amending by Section

123. If a bill is being considered section by section, only amendments to the section under consideration shall be in order. After all sections have been considered separately, the whole bill shall be open for amendment except that an amendment seeking to strike out matter previously inserted and containing substantially no new proposition shall not be in order.

Amending Titles

124. After the passage of a bill or joint resolution, amendments to its title may be offered when the title is read for approval.

Amendments to Senate Bills

125. Any Senate bill or resolution may be amended in the same manner as a House bill or resolution. If a Senate bill or resolution is amended the same shall be noted by the Clerk on the jacket containing same before it is reported to the Senate.

After the reading of a Senate amendment to a House bill or resolution the question shall be, "Will the House concur in the Senate amendment?" But it shall be in order to move that the House concur in the Senate amendment with an amendment; or that the House refuse to concur and ask the Senate to recede.

If the Senate shall refuse to concur in a House amendment to a Senate bill or resolution, the following motions shall be in order and shall be privileged in the order named: First, That the House recede; Second, That the House insist and ask for a committee of conference; Third, That the House adhere.

Clerk to Keep Journal

128. The Clerk of the House, under the direction of the Speaker, shall keep a full and correct Journal of the proceedings.

Approval and Correction

129. When the Journal has been read to the end that any mistake made in the entry may be corrected, if no objection is made, it shall stand approved, but if objection be made the first question of the House shall be to dispose of the same, and when such objections are disposed of and the Journal corrected, as the House may order, it shall stand as approved.

Printing Official Copies

130. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for correction, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith. From the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal, which shall be properly indexed. In addition thereto six copies shall be printed on 6x9 heavy-weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof, certifying that the same is the official Journal of the House and the same shall be signed by the Speaker and the Clerk. Any such resolution may be adopted by a majority vote, a quorum being present.

[NOTE: The power to make its rules of procedure is given the House under Sec. 24, Art. 6 of the Constitution.]

Suspension of Rules

134. These rules shall not be suspended, except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present. Unless there be a unanimous consent for the suspension of rules, the vote shall be determined by yeas and nays.

[NOTE: The motion to suspend the rules is usually preceded by a member requesting unanimous consent of the House to do a particular thing. If no one objects the House is deemed to assent, and what is desired is allowed accordingly. If objection is made, then the member may move that the rules be suspended for the specific purpose or object he has in view. A motion to lay on the table may not be applied to a motion to suspend the rules (Hind's Precedents, Sec. 5405.)]

 Elbert C. Campbell, Assistant Librarian, Charleston,

The West Virginia state law library, consisting of law books and legal periodicals only, is situated on the third floor of the second unit of the capitol building.

The library is in charge of the state law librarian, appointed by the Supreme Court.

The Books of the library consist of text-books purchased, and reports of other states as well as many foreign countries, all except text books coming in by exchange for West Virginia reports provided for by the state law librarian, as consecutive volumes of the reports of West Virginia and elsewhere are published.

The state law librarian, from West Virginia reports furnished him by the superintendent of public printing, supplies all judges of courts, state officers and some of the other law libraries of the state with copies of these reports.

The law governing the state law library provides that the library shall be open to the judges of the supreme court and the clerks, judges of the United States and circuit courts, state officers, and members and officers of the legislature during the session of that body.

It is also provided that no other person shall be permitted to remove any book or paper from the place where the library is kept.

A provision is also made, that "other persons than those prescribed above may be permitted to use the library at the place where it is kept."

WEST VIRGINIA STATE FLAG

The present design for the West Virginia state flag was adopted by the legislature March 7, 1929. The proportions are the same as those of the United States ensign.

The field is pure white, upon the center of which is emblazoned in proper colors the coat-of-arms of the state, upon which appears the date of the admission of West Virginia into the Union and the motto "Montani Semper Liberi" (Mountaineers Always Freemen).

Above the coat-of-arms of the State of West Virginia there is a ribbon lettered, "State of West Virginia," and a wreath of rhododendron maximum in proper colors is arranged appropriately around the lower part thereof. The field of pure white is bordered by a strip of blue on four sides.

THE STATE FLOWER

The rhododendron, or big laurel (rhododendron maximum), was named as the official state flower under the provisions of a joint resolution adopted by the legislature of West Virginia on January 23, 1903, during the administration of Governor Albert Blakeslee White.

*Enumeration of 1870 incomplete in southern states. Percentages in this column for 1860-1870 and 1870-1880 represent estimated true rates of increase.

†In comparing this percentage of increase with that shown for the decade 1910-1920, allowance should be made for the fact that the period between the censuses of 1910 and 1920 was less than a full decade, and that the period between the 1920 and 1930 censuses was more than a full decade. An increase of 16.1 per cent for 123 months (the time between January 1, 1920, and April 1, 1930) is equivalent to 15.7 percent for exactly ten years; and, the 1920 increase for 116½ months (the time between April 15, 1910, and January 1, 1920) is equivalent to 15.4 percent for 120 months. Making this adjustment, the rate of increase for the decade ending in 1930 is only slightly higher than that for the preceding decade.

BENEFITS TO BE DERIVED FROM AN ADEQUATE CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN WEST VIRGINIA

By H. W. SHAWHAN
Director of Conservation

West Virginia's commercial and industrial progress has been built very largely, within the past fifty years, upon the exploitation, and to a large extent upon the depletion of certain of our basic natural resources, namely, timber, coal, oil, gas and glass sand. When mineral resources become exhausted they are gone forever, but, fortunately, certain of our natural resources, such as forests, game, fish, and last, but by no means least, the scenic beauty of our mountains, may be protected, renewed and perpetuated, and it is with such renewable resources that the work and aims of West Virginia's Conservation Commission is concerned.

As a people, our attention and our efforts have been concentrated upon our industrial progress and development to such an extent that, naturally, we have neglected the development and advertisement of a distinct asset, attraction to tourists through the medium of outdoor recreation and mountain scenery. Other states, far less liberally endowed by nature, have capitalized such assets and have been rewarded by additional millions of dollars in circulation. Let us of America's Switzerland prepare to go on and do likewise. Let us induce tourists to come TO West Virginia instead of passing THROUGH West Virginia. In other words, through proper preparation, closely followed by judicious and legitimate advertising, let us proceed to create and develop for ourselves and our posterity a new industry.

The role of the Conservation Commission in such contemplated program entails the following:

Protection of some 5,500,000 acres of privately-owned forest land against the ravages of forest fires, insuring future growth of a valuable and important economic asset and preserving the natural beauty of our forested hills.

Regrettably necessary enforcement of game and fish laws, coupled with an accompanying educational program, designed to familiarize the masses of our people with the fundamentals of conservation.

The annual restocking of streams with hundreds of thousands of fish, and the restocking of game coverts with various species of game birds and animals for purposes of propagation.

The development of state parks and state forests to the point where citizens and visitors will be interested, attracted and, to a limited extent, housed in the fifty or more artistically designed and well-built cabins under construction.

Cooperation with the United States Forest Service in game and fish management upon the 817,000 acres or more comprising the Monongahela National Forest, and in the establishment of game refuges and public shooting grounds within this huge public forest domain.

Further acquisition of mountain lands unsuited to the needs of agriculture, possessing no future from the standpoint of mineral development, but suitable for the establishment of state forests and game refuges.

Further acquisition of historic monuments and outstanding scenic features, if and when public funds are appropriated for such purpose.

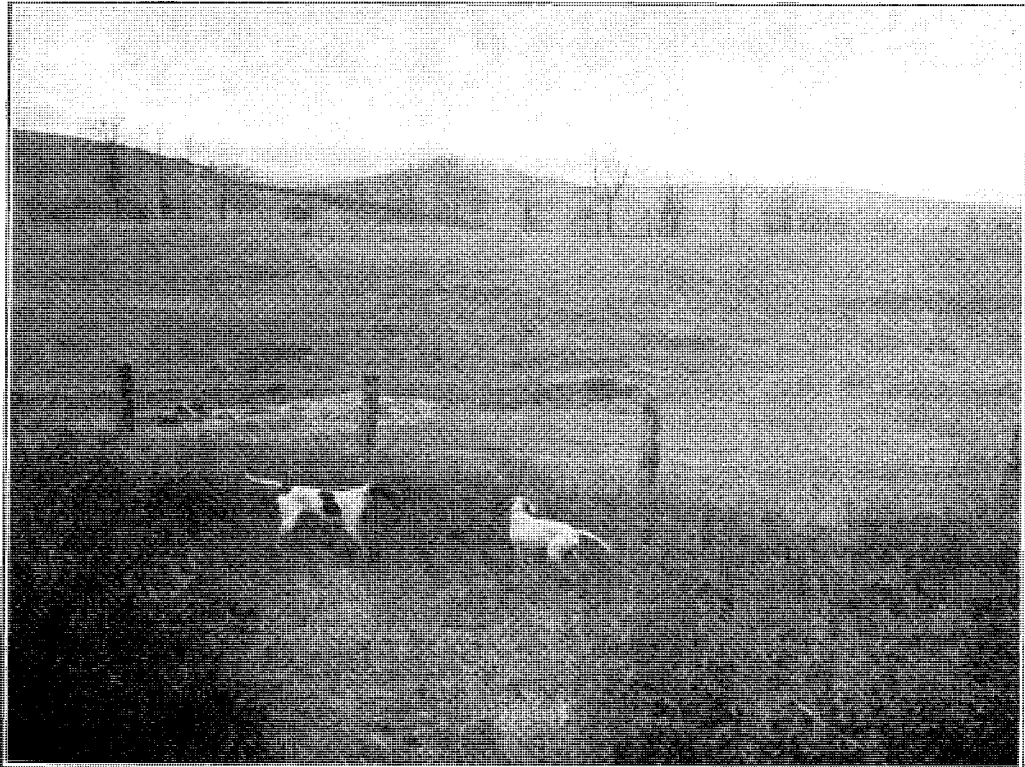

Acquainting people beyond our borders with our natural recreational advantages and facilities when we are ready to receive them, by such means of advertising as limited funds of the Commission for this purpose will permit.

Our scenery is now ready and available to delight the eyes and esthetic sensibilities of tourists. Camping, hiking, motoring and swimming will soon be possible on state and federal parks and forests, but the conscientious expenditure of time, money and effort over a period of several years is required before we can hope to create sufficient surplus of game and fish to warrant advertisement to the outside world.

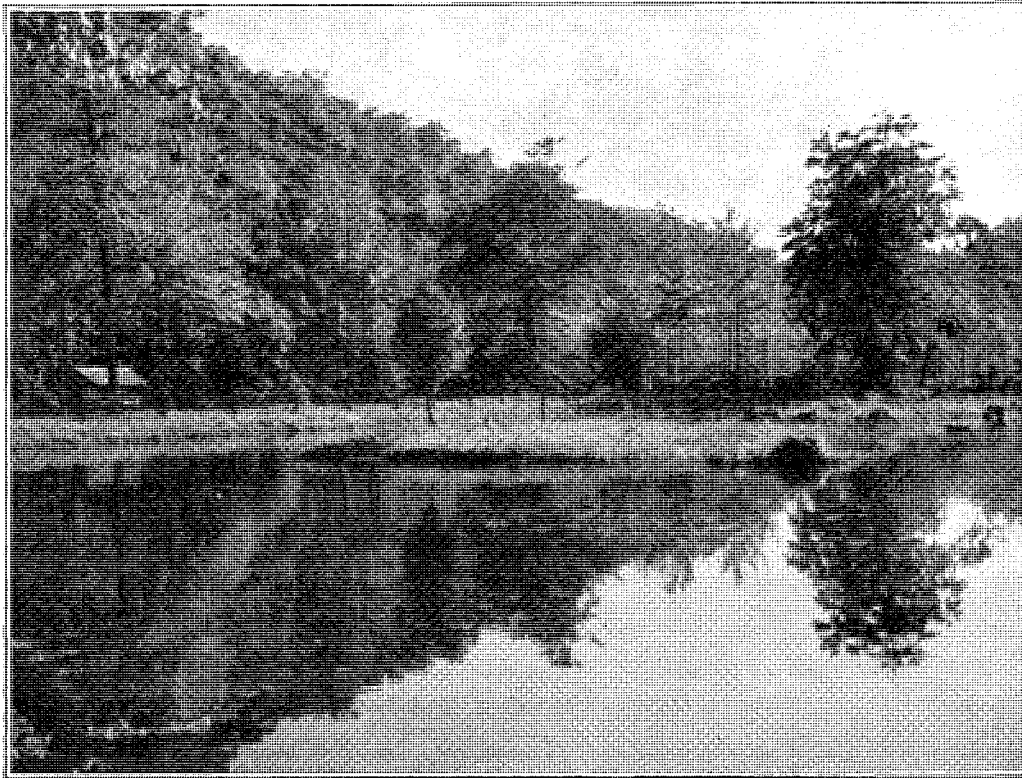

In the creation of a tourist industry, success cannot be attained through the efforts of one commission or agency alone. West Virginians must pull together, must rid themselves of their inherited curse of sectionalism, must rid themselves of factionalism and jealousies, and must begin to think as West Virginians, not as natives of heterogeneous and autonomous countries such as the Northern Panhandle, the Eastern Panhandle, Central West Virginia, Southern West Virginia. Private industry must cooperate in the construction or improvement, operation and maintenance of well-kept and efficiently run hostleries, with rates within the means of the average tourist.

Conservation of natural resources and development of means for the public to enjoy such resources form the keystone of the arch of tourist trade.

A conservation program, adequate and successful, means to West Virginia: A better place in which to live, more enjoyment of healthful outdoor recreational pursuits, and substantial and tangible profits from the attraction of new dollars into the financial circulation of the state.

CLOSED SEASON NECESSARY FOR PROTECTION OF WILD LIFE

By CY WILLS, Educational Director,
Conservation Commission

The Conservation Commission of West Virginia, consisting of a director of conservation and five advisory commissioners, was created by act of the legislature at the first extraordinary session of 1933. The members of that body, realizing the necessity therefor by reason of changed conditions, conferred broad discretionary powers upon the director, subject to the approval of the Governor, and the increasing demand on wild life and fish has made it imperative that this authority be used.

State-wide surveys have disclosed that much thought should be given the open season and bag limit of game animals, game birds and fish.

To afford increased protection for game fish during their reproduction period, it has become apparent that certain streams must be closed during their spawning season.

In order that game animals and game birds should be allowed to nest and reproduce without molestation by dogs, a ruling making it unlawful to take dogs into the fields and forests during May, June, July and August was approved by the Director.

Due to the decreased numbers in various sections of the state, it becomes necessary from time to time to prohibit hunting of different game birds and animals during any period of the year.

In increasing the protection personnel, it was taken into consideration that these new protectors could not only give more protection to game and fish, but that they could give valuable assistance and information to the sportsmen of the state as well as the state's out-of-doors visitors.

The extermination of some 600,000 head of predatory animals and birds has been accomplished at a very nominal cost to the commission, due to the valuable assistance of merchants and members of sportsmen's organizations throughout the state.

At the request of the commission, the legislature of 1935 appropriated $45,000 to be used for the purpose of compensating the citizens of the state for aid in the suppression of forest fires. Before this act was passed, claims for services in fighting forest fires were paid by the already overburdened counties, some of which found it difficult to provide funds for such purposes.

MARKING WEST VIRGINIA'S POINTS OF HISTORIC INTEREST

By ROSS B. JOHNSTON

Acting Director, Commission on Historic and Scenic Markers

In order to bring together for permanent preservation the history of the state which is in danger of being lost, and to mark suitably along our highways the outstanding historic and scenic points of West Virginia, Governor H. G. Kump, in 1934, created the West Virginia Commission on Historic and Scenic Markers. This Commission set up a working arrangement with the West Virginia Relief Administration, State Road Commission, State Conservation Commission, Department of Archives and History and other interested state agencies, by means of which the first half of this project had been completed December 1, 1935.

Briefly, the Commission, with a staff of 150 field workers, paid by the West Virginia Relief Administration, made a survey in each of the 55 counties of the state, which brought together material concerning nearly 5,000 points of interest. Study of these suggestions by qualified historians throughout the state enabled the Commission to recommend some 500 points which should receive first consideration as worthy of marking. It was pointed out that this should only be the start of a project that would extend over a number of years. More points should be chosen each year until the entire state has been fully and accurately marked.

The results of the survey are to be found in several thousand pages of manuscript. Four copies of all material are made which are used as follows: One copy remains in the county from which it came; one copy goes to the D. A. R. library at Washington; one copy to the State Department of Archives and History at Charleston; and one copy to the Historic Library, West Virginia University, at Morgantown.

The material includes two general groups as follows:

First: Historic and scenic land marks, such as buildings, bridges, birth places, burial places, homes and other places associated with prominent persons; important highways; Indian and pioneer trails; battlefields; incidents of pioneer, Revolutionary or later history of particular significance or interest, including the origin of early Indian or pioneer names; early industries; natural wonders and varied geological and geographical features; and, outstanding beauty spots.

Second: Such genealogical material as may be available, including births, deaths, marriages, wills and deeds.

The Commission found that the public was enthusiastically responsive to this movement to preserve the state's history, to make it of greater interest to local people, and to present it in such a way that its charm will be felt by the visiting tourist. Historical societies of every character and interested public and private citizens in every county gave liberally of their time without remuneration to assist the field workers. The result has been to bring to light much material which is of importance to the history of our state.

The material assembled will be indexed so that it will be most useful to those who will use it in research.

The material concerning the various points that are being considered for markers has been edited and submitted to the public generally for suggestions and criticism. The Commission has given careful consideration to information from every source and has made every effort to see that the proposed inscriptions are accurate as to fact, and also such as will give a graphic picture of the events which have taken place at the various points marked, so as to be of the greatest possible interest to the public.

The fund set aside by the West Virginia Relief Administration does not include an amount sufficient to buy the markers nor to make possible the assembling of all of the genealogical data of the state up to the year 1900.

Therefore, the Commission secured approval by the Works Progress Administration of a state-wide project to complete the program. This project has been approved, part of the funds allocated, and the work started. It includes the following:

First: Completion of the task of assembling historic material, and checking material already in hand.

Second: Manufacture of the roadside markers to be placed on the main highways leading from West Virginia into other states, on the county boundary lines, at the county seats, and at the numerous other points of historic and scenic interest in the respective counties. The total number of such markers will be about 400, depending upon the unit cost.

Third: Erection of the markers, which, after erection, will be maintained by the State Road Commission.

Fourth: Publication through cooperation with the State Road Commission, which has sponsored this project, of a highway guide which will give the public information about the points that are marked.

The genealogical material that will be assembled up to the year 1900 will include the following in each of the 55 counties:

Births;	Deaths;
Cemetery register of burials;	Marriage bonds;
Church and parish membership rolls;	Marriages;
Church and parish birth and baptismal rolls;	War records;
Family records (old bibles, etc.);	Wills and inventories.

THE DESIGNER OF THE GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

(See Frontispiece)

J. H. DISS DeBAR
1817-1905

J. H. Diss DeBar, the designer of the Coat of Arms and Great Seal of West Virginia, was born in Alsace Lorraine about 1817. He received a classical and scientific education, being extremely well versed in French, German and English, and was an artist of note. He sailed for the United States from Liverpool on January 4, 1842, being a passenger on the same boat with Charles Dickens. He resided at Cincinnati, where he married Clara Levassor, afterwards moving to Parkersburg, where he became interested in West Virginia lands. He established a Swiss colony in Doddridge County, naming it Santa Clara, after his wife. While unsuccessfully contesting the seat of Ephraim Bee as a member of the House of Delegates from Doddridge County, he designed the Great Seal of West Virginia, which was adopted by the Legislature September 26, 1863. He was elected a member of the House in 1864.

Diss DeBar was appointed Commissioner of Immigration by Governor Boreman in 1864, and was instrumental in establishing several colonies of immigrants in this state. In 1870, he published and distributed a book entitled "The West Virginia Hand-Book." He died at Philadelphia January 13, 1905.

THE CHEMICAL INDUSTRY IN WEST VIRGINIA

By PHIL M. CONLEY

It was a quiet little frontier village. A few log houses comprised the dwellings of hardy pioneers; people who were God-fearing, sincere, home-loving individuals. A small stream meandered between high mountains and passed near the cleared level section of land on which the cabins were built; virgin forest covered the hills and valleys and made it difficult for the men to find space for gardens in order to provide food for their families.

The village was known as Draper's Meadows, named for one of the pioneer families that had brought their scant belongings and settled in Virginia, in what is now Montgomery County. Here lived the heroine, Mrs. Mary Ingles.

The community had been free from disturbances by Indians with the exception of some petty thievery, until July, 1755, when a band of Shawnees came from west of the Ohio River, made a surprise attack upon the settlers, killed most of them and took a few prisoners. After the horrible massacre they took Mary Ingles, Mrs. Betty Draper and some children and started West. They followed Bluestone River to the head of Paint Creek, then back to the Kanawha River and along that stream to the mouth of Campbells Creek, a short distance above the present site of Charleston, where they camped for several days.

At this place the prisoners were put to work making salt. They had crude clay vessels in which they collected brine from a spring and then boiled it over an open fire. Mrs. Ingles and the other prisoners were taken to an Indian village about forty miles below Cincinnati. She succeeded in escaping and returned to a settlement near her former home.

Mrs. Draper's report of making salt at the mouth of Campbells Creek in 1775 was possibly the first record of a chemical process in what is now West Virginia. As early as 1770 at an Indian village in Braxton County, now Bulltown, salt was manufactured at a "lick." And on the Ohio River where Mason City and Hartford are now located were other salt "licks."

Little did the pioneer settlers who lay in wait near salt "licks" for game realize that in the future would be located on the same sites many world renowned chemical manufacturing plants.

During the last year of Washington's administration as president (1797) there was established the first commercial chemical plant in West Virginia. In that year Elisha Brooks leased a tract of land from Joseph Ruffner, Sr., and established a crude furnace near the mouth of Campbells Creek. It consisted of twenty-four small kettles set in double rows. A flue was constructed beneath the kettles, a fire bed at one end and a chimney at the other end. Brine was obtained from wells that were sunk eight or ten feet deep. With this makeshift furnace, Brooks was able to manufacture about 150 pounds of salt a day.

Other adventurous business men heard about the profitable enterprise in which Brooks had engaged and came to the vicinity and began to manufacture the valuable chemical, sodium chloride (salt). The Kanawha Valley was the center of the salt industry of the entire country within a few years after the first furnace was established. Competition became so marked between different individuals who were producing salt that the leaders decided they must take measures to protect the prices. A meeting of the owners of the principal furnaces was called in Charleston in 1817. They drew up an agreement stating that they would not sell salt for less than a given sum and, further, that it would all be handled through a central sales agency. This is reputed to be the first trust organized in the United States. It, however, did not last for any length of time.

Only one of the many furnaces that were established in the early days of the salt industry continues to operate, the one owned by the J. Q. Dickinson Salt Company at Malden. It was built in 1832 and has been in continuous operation since that date, with the exception of a short period during the Civil War when it was closed on account of a flood. Mr. C. C. Dickinson, a grandson of the man who established the furnace, is operating the plant today. The salt manufactured here is coarse, but it is popular among the farmers of Kentucky and Tennessee for salting down meat and supplying cattle and other animals.

Mr. Dickinson started making bromine in 1890, the oldest operation of its kind in the United States. This chemical is used in the manufacture of sodium, potassium and ammonium salts.

One discovery in connection with the development of the salt industry in the Kanawha Valley has had a world-wide influence, the perfection by Billy Morris of a drill with "jars" by which one may drill a hole two miles deep. About the only recognition the inventor received was to have a street named for him in the city of Charleston.

The men who were interested in the manufacture of salt were handicapped at times by oil and natural gas. The oil would fill up the wells, overflow and run down the bank of the river. Boatmen called the Kanawha "Old Greasy" because of the oil that covered it. Gas was dangerous because of its inflammable character. It was 1841 before anyone thought of utilizing it as a fuel. In that year William Tompkins found a large volume of gas a short distance east of Charleston. He constructed crude wooden pipes and conducted the gas to a furnace where he used it instead of coal. This was the first time natural gas was used for commercial purposes in the United States.

Unwittingly, perhaps, the pioneers at the beginning of the last century saw the establishment of an industry that eventually will prove to be a great boon to West Virginia and her citizens. On the site of the first salt works and in the territory surrounding may be found in almost limitless quantities five of the elements which are necessary for the manufacture of chemical products—carbon from coal, oxygen and nitrogen from the air, hydrogen from the water and chlorine from the salt brines. Sulphur is easily secured by adequate transportation facilities.

Other factors contribute to make West Virginia an ideal location for great chemical plants. An engineer in charge of the largest chlorine plant in the world at South Charleston said to the writer: "The barometric pressure in the vicinity of Charleston is ideal for our purposes. I doubt whether a place could be found in the world that would be more suitable for the location of our plant." The climatic conditions, neither too hot nor too cold; the geographic situation within easy reach of the densely populated areas of the eastern seaboard and the large cities of the Middle West; excellent transportation facilities; a dependable supply of labor—these are added advantages offered the manufacturers of chemicals which are not to be found in most places. Another factor is that West Virginia is an inland state. In case of war it is almost imperative to have chemical plants, especially those producing ingredients that are used in the manufacture of ammunitions, located far enough from the sea-coast that they will be comparatively safe from attack.

In 1898 a small factory was established at Glen Ferris which utilized the power derived from Kanawha Falls. It manufactures ferrochromium. This plant is now owned by the Electro Metallurgical Company, a subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon Company. Just recently the parent company constructed a three-mile tunnel through the mountain east of Kanawha Falls. When a giant hydro-electric plant is completed at the mouth of the tunnel, a part of New River will be diverted through it at Hawk's Nest.

In the building of the tunnel workmen struck a vein of almost perfect silica sand. Many tons of it were transported a few miles west to Alloy where the company has erected a huge chemical plant. This plant was put in operation a little more than a year ago.

It was in 1913, twenty-three years ago, that Hugh Rollins, an Englishman, purchased a tract of land along the river bank in the eastern end of South Charleston where he established a small factory. This was actually the beginning of the widespread development of the chemical industry in and near Charleston. In 1923 the company was reorganized and the Barium Reduction Corporation was formed. It manufactures barium sulphide, blanc fixe, barium carbonate, sodium sulphite, sodium sulphhydrate, hydrogen sulphide, and strontium peroxide.

In 1913 the Standard Ultramarine Company moved its plant from Tiffin, Ohio, where it was established in 1909, to Huntington. This company manufactures an ultramarine blue, a dye coloring matter which is used in paints, printing ink, and paper, as well as in laundry blue.

In 1914 Westvaco Chlorine Products, Incorporated, established a plant at South Charleston. It is the largest chlorine plant in the world. It manufactures liquid chlorine, caustic soda, carbon disulphide, carbon tetrachloride, sulphur chloride, and other similar chemicals.

Dr. Lucien C. Warner and E. C. Klipstein became interested in the salt brines in the Kanawha Valley in 1916. They located a factory west of the one built by Hugh Rollins in South Charleston. The E. C. Klipstein and Sons Company produced anthraquinone, anhydrous aluminum chloride, dyestuffs and other similar products.

Then followed an interest on the part of the Federal Government in the Kanawha Valley with the result that a large factory was erected at Nitro to manufacture explosives. The site of the town was sixteen miles west of Charleston on the north side of the river. Many millions of dollars were spent to erect a modern factory, but the Armistice was signed before it was completed and no explosives were ever manufactured at that place. The plant was abandoned, and the property, equipment and buildings were sold for a fraction of the original cost. At the present time three chemical plants are located on the site, Rubber Service Laboratories, Ohio-Apex, Incorporated, and the Viscose Company.

The Rubber Service Laboratories were established at Nitro in 1921. This company manufactures rubber accelerators, flotation agents and a series of miscellaneous chemicals.

In 1922 the Viscose Company established a pulp plant in Nitro. It converts raw cotton stock into pulp form, suitable for direct use in the manufacture of rayon yarns in other plants owned by the same company. One of the principal plants that uses the pulp manufactured at Nitro is the rayon factory of the Viscose Company, at Parkersburg.

When the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation was formed in 1920 as a subsidiary of the Union Carbon and Carbide Corporation, an impetus was given to the development of chemical possibilities of the Kanawha Valley. At that time the company built a small plant at Clendenin mainly for experimental purposes.

A short time later a tract of land known as Blaine's Island, in the Kanawha River opposite South Charleston, was purchased by the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation. For more than one-half a century luscious watermelons had been grown on this site. It also afforded an excellent place for campers and fishermen, but when the river was at flood stage the island was covered with water. As soon as the chemical company took possession, pumps were placed in the river, sand and gravel were drawn from the bed and the island was literally built up before the large factory was erected on it.

Sites were purchased on the south side of the river, buildings constructed and a bridge built to connect the island with the mainland. Then began the rapid development of chemical plants far beyond the dream of the pioneers who spent their days manufacturing small quantities of salt by a laborious process. Almost overnight many millions of dollars were spent in providing buildings and in installing the latest machinery for the production of commercial chemical compounds. Hundreds of technicians, engineers and highly trained chemists were put to work.

The research men followed two distinct lines, one group investigated the possibilities of manufacturing new derivatives from hydrocarbon raw materials, and the other group tried to determine the needs of the consumers. From the beginning there has been a close association between the research men and the operating staff. Sales of the products were also placed in the hands of highly trained chemists. In this way the salesmen were able to assist the customers as consultants.

The first award in the United States for chemical engineering achievement was given the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation as a "depression achievement" between January, 1930, and January, 1934. The major achievement of this company was in the erection of a great synthetic chemical plant at Charleston. Prior to the erection of this plant American chemistry had not made by synthetic methods such products as methanol, ethyl alcohol, ethyl ether and acetone.

The Union Carbide and Chemical Company of South Charleston has one of the most noted chemical factories in the entire world. For ten years it has brought out a new product about every three months. Half of them are new chemicals and practically all of them are manufactured by new processes developed by George Curme and his research associates.

It would be impossible to list all of the chemicals being manufactured at the present time in this remarkable factory. However, from 1920-29 twelve major compounds were worked out and marketed. They were: ethylene glycol, cellosolve, cellosolve acetate, butyl cellosolve, methyl cellosolve, diethylene glycol, carbitol, butyl carbitol, ethylene chlorhydrin, ethylene dichloride, dichlor ethyl ether, and triethanolamine.

The chronology of progress in building a synthetic aliphatic chemicals industry follows: 1925, successful commercial production of cellosolve (ethylene glycol monoethyl ether), ethane, ethylene, ethylene chlorhydrin (40 per cent), ethylene dichloride, ethylene glycol, isobutane, methane, propane, Pyrofax. 1927, cellosolve acetate, first announced. 1928, Butane, carbitol (diethylene glycol monethyl ether), butyl Carbitol (diethylene glycol monobutyl ether) butyl Cellosolve (ethylene glycol monobutyl ether), diethylene glycol, triethanolamine. 1929, acetone, butylene, carbon dioxide, dichlorethyl ether, dioxan, ethylene oxide, isoprapanol, methyl Cellosolve, propylene, vinyl chloride. 1930, carboxide, ethyl alcohol, ethyl ether, isopropyl ether, methyl alcohol, Vinylite resins. 1931, butyl acetate, butyl alcohol, butyraldehyde, propylene chlorhydrin, propylene dichloride, propylene glycol, propylene oxide. 1932, acetoacetanilid, diethyl sulphate, diethanolamine, monoethanolamine, ethyl acetate, ethyl acetoacetate, methyl acetate. 1933, acetic anyndrid, butyric acid, dipropyl ketone, ethylene chlorhydrin (anyhydrous), ispropyl acetate, methylamyl alcohol, methyl amyl acetate, methyl isobutyl ketone.

The Belle Alkali Company was started in 1920. It is managed by D. A. Stubblefield. Here are manufactured liquid chloride, caustic soda, chloroform, sodium hypochlorite bromine and calcium chloride.

In 1923 the Evans-Wallower Lead Company was established at Charleston. Here are manufactured litharge, red lead and orange mineral.

Much interest was developed in West Virginia as a possible site for chemical plants by the extensive construction plans of the plants that were located at South Charleston. In 1926 the world renowned du Pont de Nemours Company located a small ammonia plant at Belle. It seems the plan of the company at first was to manufacture about twenty-five tons a day, but that has been increased many fold. It is now the second largest plant of its kind in the United States. The plant has been enlarged far beyond the original expectations. It now manufactures methyonol, sodium, formate, aqua ammonia and many other chemical products. It was organized originally to provide ammonia for use of the parent company in manufacturing nitric acid but it now supplies great quantities to the refrigeration, explosives, fertilizer and other industries. It maintains an enormous research laboratory which cost probably a million dollars. New chemical compounds are being discovered from time to time.

The anhydrous ammonia is shipped in tank cars, each having a capacity of ten thousand gallons or approximately twenty-five tons. The cars are filled from storage tanks which have a capacity of six million pounds.

A great national advantage is found in the du Pont plant which is located at Belle. The country has become secure as regards supplies of nitrogen for the manufacture of explosives in case of war and also the supply of fertilizer for agricultural pursuits. The location is ideal since it is so far inland.

PRINCIPAL FEATURES OF THE WEST VIRGINIA WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

By A. G. MATHEWS
State Compensation Commissioner

The West Virginia elective compensation law was approved February 22, 1913, and became effective October 1, of the same year. The state may be termed a pioneer in the compensation field as it was the fourteenth state to pass an operative law affording its employees the protection of this humanitarian legislation. It is encouraging to know that the legislative bodies during the existence of the fund have kept pace with the leading industrial states in equalizing and liberalizing the benefits, with the following amendatory enactments: February 20, 1915; March 13, 1915; February 13, 1919; April 26, 1923; April 24, 1925; March 7, 1929; January 1, 1931; March 8, 1935, and March 9, 1935.

The Workmen's Compensation Fund as originally enacted was placed under the supervision of the Public Service Commission, of which Lee Ott was chairman. On March 13, 1915, the original act was amended, transferring administrative powers to the newly created office of State Compensation Commissioner. Lee Ott was named as the first commissioner and served continuously until June 30, 1927, when he was succeeded by C. L. Heaberlin, who served until May 31, 1929, when Lee Ott was again named Commissioner, and served until March 8, 1933. On that date, George T. Watson was given the appointment by Governor H. G. Kump and served until his death December 20, 1934. A. G. Mathews was appointed by the Governor to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Watson, and reappointed June 30, 1935, for the regular term of six years.

To facilitate the handling of its work, divisions of the department have been established as follows: Executive, legal, medical, accounting, claim, disbursing and actuarial-statistical.

All personal injuries resulting from employment, which are not self inflicted, the result of wilful misconduct, disobedience to rules, or intoxication, causing incapacity or death within six years, are compensatable.

All industries including state and government agencies are covered by the act. Domestic and agricultural labor are also included.

All persons privately employed in industries are covered, including aliens. The act does not cover members of firms, persons not legally employed, officers of corporations, including president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and general manager of entire operation and persons wholly without the state of West Virginia.

Compensation for death includes reasonable funeral expenses not to exceed $150.00. The widow or invalid widower receives $30.00 per month until death or remarriage, plus $5.00 additional for each child under sixteen years of age. If the child is an invalid, the award is for life. If the widow or invalid widower remarry within two years after the death of the employee, he or she is paid twenty percent of the balance of ten years' benefits.

If no widow, invalid widower or child under the age of sixteen years is left, other persons wholly dependent are awarded for the period of six years fifty percent of the average monthly support received from the deceased during the preceding year, not exceeding $20.00 per month.

If the deceased was a single minor to a dependent parent, an award for six years of 66  $\frac{2}{3}$  percent of the earnings, not to exceed \$7.00 per week is made, unless parents were only partially dependent or deceased was under sixteen years of age. In the latter case, the award is made for the period until he would have become twenty-one years of age.

Compensation for disability includes medical, nursing and hospital services, dental treatment, crutches, artificial limbs and such other additional approved mechanical appliances as may be reasonably required, not exceeding $800.00. The commissioner is authorized to expend such an amount as may be necessary not exceeding an additional $800.00 in cases where an employee has sustained a permanent disability and can be physically and vocationally rehabilitated by training, use of mechanical appliances, medical, surgical or hospital treatment.

For temporary disability, an award of 66  $\frac{2}{3}$  percent of the average weekly earnings is made for a period not exceeding fifty-two weeks. For certain ununited fractures, etc., the period may be extended to seventy-eight weeks. For permanent disability, an award of 66  $\frac{2}{3}$  percent of the wages is made for periods varying with the degree of disability. Lump sum payments may be substituted for periodic payments in case of either injury or death. Awards may be modified at any time.

Insurance is effective through a state fund under the control of a compensation commissioner. Employers of approved ability may carry their own risks by furnishing bond for the performance of requirements not less than those of the law, without contributions from their employees.

Payments may be made only to beneficiaries and are exempt from claims of creditors or attachment on execution. Disputes are settled by the commissioner holding public hearings. All parties concerned are permitted to present evidence either for or against the claim. Exception to the ruling of the commissioner may be reviewed by the Appeal Board upon the record made before the commissioner. The Board may sustain the commissioner's findings, remand the claim for the taking of further evidence, or reverse any prior order. Appeal lies to the Supreme Court of Appeals from an order of the Appeal Board.

West Virginia's rating system is unique in that only the experience as developed by state industries is used in establishing base rates. The merit rating system permits the same application, only reducing the scope to the individual employer's record, thereby encouraging the individual employer in safety measures, as the merit rate is based entirely on the number and severity of accidents at the operation. Reserve tables from which all charges for pension claims are made are calculated solely from the West Virginia Workmen's Compensation Fund statistical records of mortality, remarriage and interest earnings.

LIQUOR CONTROL

ESTABLISHMENT OF STORES AND AGENCIES

Under the West Virginia liquor control act, the first state liquor store was opened at Charleston on May 9, 1935. A total of 66 stores were being operated as of December 1, 1935, three stores having been discontinued. The store at St. Albans was discontinued after the town voted dry. Upshur county voted dry, and the store at Buckhannon was closed. The store at Ceredo was discontinued by reason of lack of sufficient business to justify operation, the town afterwards voting dry. Liquor stores were opened at White Sulphur Springs, Mannington, Ronceverte and Sistersville in place of agencies which had been established in those cities. The agency at Littleton was closed after the county voted dry. An agency was established at West Hamlin but was never opened, as the county voted dry.

The following counties have voted dry: Grant, Jackson, Lincoln, Ritchie, Roane, Upshur and Wetzel.

Cities and towns have voted dry as follows: Blacksville, Ceredo, Franklin, Pennsboro, Romney, St. Albans, Wayne, West Union and Williamstown.

Majorities in favor of the establishment and maintenance of state liquor stores have been recorded at elections held in the following cities: East Rainelle, New Martinsville, Parsons and Ripley.

HIGHWAY SAFETY IN WEST VIRGINIA

By WILL C. EASLEY
Highway Safety Director

The State Road Commission Highway Safety Department was established November 1, 1934, primarily for the purpose of inaugurating an intensive campaign having for its object the reduction of the appalling annual death toll by autos in West Virginia. Up to October 1st, a total of 387 fatal motor vehicle accidents had been reported in West Virginia during the year.

The Highway Safety Department has started an educational and publicity campaign for the elimination of automobile accidents on the streets and highways. Much good has been accomplished thus far, but there is yet a great field for this human endeavor for safer highways in West Virginia.

With the united support of the entire citizenship, West Virginia could and would master her highway problems just as she has mastered other vexing problems in the past.

Safety councils throughout the state, as well as automobile clubs, civic and industrial clubs, parent-teacher associations and the American Legion, have been interested and are cooperating to the fullest extent in the state-wide safety campaign in an effort to avert automobile accidents.

The following table shows the motor vehicle fatalities in West Virginia for the first nine months of 1935:

January .....	33
February .....	31
March .....	51
April .....	37
May .....	40
June .....	38
July .....	61
August .....	51
September .....	45
Total fatalities, January 1-October 1.....	387

Since the passage of the drunken and reckless drivers law, 1,789 driver's licenses have been revoked and their cars impounded for from six to twelve months.

With the wholehearted cooperation of Colonel P. D. Shingleton, Superintendent of the Department of Public Safety, and his entire force of well trained troopers, and with the aid of mayors, sheriffs and other law enforcing officials throughout the state, great progress has been made in the campaign to make the streets and highways of West Virginia safe for the motoring public.

School boy patrols are rendering a great service, and it is the earnest desire of this department that patrols be organized in each school in the state.

Motorists, as well as pedestrians can assist in reducing the death and accident toll in West Virginia by obeying the following traffic laws, rules and regulations:

Keep the mechanical part of your car in perfect condition, especially the brakes, lights, windshield wiper and casings.

Keep your car under perfect control at all times and obey speed regulations, especially, in school zones, at hazardous curves and at intersections.

Obey traffic lights and stop signs.

Use hand signaling when you turn to the right, left and for stopping.

Do not jay walk.

Always walk on the left side of the highway, facing traffic.

When walking at night, carry a light, or step off the road.

Do not walk in groups on the highways.

Cross streets at intersections only.

Do not step out from behind parked cars.

Keep a constant lookout for the children who may dart into the street or highway.

Do not pass on a curve or crest of a hill.

Do not allow children to ride on the side of your car.

Never permit more than three persons to ride in the front seat.

Park your car on the right side of the street and as close to the curb as possible.

NATIONAL REEMPLOYMENT SERVICE

(A Division of the United States Department of Labor)
Charleston

REEMPLOYMENT IN WEST VIRGINIA

The National Reemployment Service is an emergency agency created within and by the United States Employment Service, which is a division of the United States Department of Labor, and is financed exclusively from emergency funds by the federal government. It was set up during July and August, 1933, for the purpose of providing a public placement agency with a complete coverage for West Virginia.

On July 1, 1934, the National Reemployment offices at Charleston and Wheeling were taken over by the West Virginia State Employment Service, which is financed with state funds matched by federal funds appropriated under the Wagner-Peyser Act. The West Virginia State Employment Service is a division of the State Department of Labor.

Besides their customary activities with reference to placements in private industry both services have been engaged during the summer and fall of 1935 in placing persons from the relief rolls on the Federal Works Progress Administration program projects.

With a full consideration of industrial necessities, the service has been organized into districts and a manager appointed for each district.

RESUME OF 1935

At the close perspective of its last days, the year 1935 may seem less historically important for West Virginia than the stirring times of 1933, when a large part of the structure of Government was made over, or even of 1934, when all West Virginia settled itself down to an adjustment to the new order. But in the view of later years, who knows but what historians may remember events of 1935 and portray them just as vividly and with as much interest as the things which happened in 1933 and 1934.

Regardless of how they may be arranged in the order of their importance, no historian writing of West Virginia and the year 1935 will omit mention of the repeal of prohibition; the seating of thirty-year-old Rush D. Holt as a member of the United States Senate; the enactment by Congress of the Guffey Coal Bill; the developments in the matter of federal and state relief; the enactment of important laws by the legislature; and the general recovery in business and industry throughout the state of West Virginia.

Opening of State Liquor Stores

West Virginia voted to repeal its state prohibition amendment in the election of November, 1934. The amendment was so conditioned, however, as to prevent its taking effect until March 1, 1935, but it was early in May before the first state liquor store opened at Charleston, and the first legal sale of liquor (except by prescription) was made in West Virginia in a score of years.

The repeal amendment adopted in the state at the 1934 election prevented the sale of liquor by the drink, that is, outlawed saloons or other public dispensaries in which drinks could be consumed. In addition to this, there was a strong public sentiment against permitting private profit in the liquor business. The result was the enactment of a law sponsored by Governor Kump which vested in the state the exclusive right to sell alcoholic liquors, which prevented consumption by the drink, and which permitted local option.

Not long after the act was passed, Governor Kump appointed the first liquor control commission, consisting of D. H. Stephenson, of Kanawha County, Chairman; A. Spates Brady, of Randolph County; and John B. Wilson, of Ohio County. The commission promptly moved into quarters at the Capitol, plunged into the detailed work of setting up a statewide organization, and a few weeks later opened the first store. Since then, over sixty stores have been opened in various parts of the state. On the last day of the year, the commission repaid to the state the half million dollars advanced in the spring for the purpose of setting in motion the liquor control system in West Virginia.

Seating of Senator Rush D. Holt

The election of Senator Holt likewise had taken place in 1934 when he was but twenty-nine years of age. Immediately, the question of his age arose and there was launched a movement to prevent him from being seated. The movement, of course, was based upon the fact that he was but twenty-nine years of age, one year under the constitutional age requirement of thirty.

The controversy attracted national interest, the matter being discussed at length editorially and in the news columns of the newspapers of the country. Records were searched for a precedent to guide action in the United States Senate, and legal authorities were consulted to determine whether or not Holt should be seated. Acting on the advice of certain influential members of the Senate, Holt decided to await his thirtieth birthday, on June sixteenth, before presenting himself to be seated. On that date, over the mere formal objection of some members of the minority, Mr. Holt was seated without difficulty.

Enactment of Guffey Coal Bill

Just what effect the Guffey Coal Act will have on West Virginia's largest industry was still uncertain as the year closed, due to the many attacks on its constitutionality launched in the courts. One of the many suits contesting its validity was filed in the federal court late in November by four coal companies whose main offices are located at Charleston.

The effect of the bill is to place the industry largely under the control of a coal commission; to divide it into regions for selling purposes; to protect further the rights of miners in collective bargaining; and to permit the federal government to take over coal lands under certain conditions. The general opinion was that it gave the government effective control over the industry. C. E. Smith, of Fairmont, who had been serving as secretary to the International Joint Commission, was named a member of the coal commission set-up under the Guffey act.

As the year ended there seemed to be no doubt that West Virginia would again lead the country in the production of bituminous coal. It was variously estimated by those interested in the business that the output would total between 97,000,000 and 100,000,000 tons. Wages paid miners during the year seemed likely to total between $111,500,000 and $112,000,000. This compares with a total of $55,000,000 paid in 1933.

WPA Program in West Virginia

The Works Progress Administration's plan to take the place of direct relief was launched in the fall. Under this plan, evolved by the administration, congress appropriated $4,800,000,000 for the purpose of meeting the problems of unemployment. The immense program in West Virginia was under the direction of F. Witcher McCullough as WPA administrator, and during the early weeks of his administration much time was spent in establishing an administrative set-up and in receiving and forwarding to Washington applications for projects submitted by the various local units of government.

At the end of the year, nearly $60,000,000 had been granted to West Virginia for the Federal Works program, $26,000,000 of which had been spent for roads, streets, bridges, schools, etc., and for various professional and service projects such as indexing public records, preparation of a state guide, emergency education, traffic surveys, etc.

On December 26th the National Emergency Council reported 51,445 persons at work on WPA projects in West Virginia. In addition, 11,561 were employed in emergency conservation work and 3,041 on various other jobs.

A large problem of relief still faced the state, for while the WPA was planned to provide jobs for over 50,000 of the unemployed, an estimated additional 20,000 persons were not provided for. They were destined to become the state's responsibility with the beginning of the new year.

One of the interesting aspects of relief during the early part of the year was the continual storm which seemed to rage around the head of William N. Beehler, who was then relief administrator. It came to a climax on July 26th, when Governor Kump removed Mr. Beehler as administrator and appointed C. L. Allen in his stead. Mr. Allen is still serving in the capacity of relief administrator.

Important Legislative Enactments

The legislature convened in regular session in January, and Charles E. Hodges, was elected President of the Senate, and John J. Pelter, Speaker of the House of Delegates. In practically all matters of importance both houses supported the program of Governor Kump.

Several laws of great importance and of more than general public interest were passed during the session. One such law liberalizes the divorce laws of the state. Under it, divorces from bed and board are abolished and the previous grounds for both absolute divorces and divorces from bed and board now constitute grounds for absolute divorce. Prior to the enactment of the new law, the time for remarriage after the final decree could not be fixed by the courts at less than six months. Such time can now be fixed at a minimum of sixty days, and the trial court is given discretion to fix costs and alimony and to provide for the division of property in any manner that may seem equitable. In addition, the law regarding the annulment of marriage was made more comprehensive.

Two very important laws were enacted for the protection of those who use our great chain of highways. One is known as the "drunk driving" law and the other as the automobile financial responsibility act. The one provides severe penalties for driving a car while under the influence of liquor or narcotics. For the first offense the driver's license is revoked and his car impounded for a period of six months. The second offense is a felony, the penalty being confinement in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than three years. In addition, the driver's license is revoked forever. Under the provisions of the other, no person who has had his registration plates suspended and operator's license card revoked for certain offenses against our laws can drive a car upon our highways until he has filed with the state road commission proof of financial responsibility in the form of a bond or certificate of an insurance company to the effect that such person is covered by personal liability and property damage insurance.

Studying Social Security Legislation

Before the close of the regular session of the legislature on March ninth, a committee composed of six members of the Senate and six members of the House of Delegates was appointed for the purpose of studying matters pertaining to social security legislation. The first meeting of the committee was held at Charleston on the last day of October. The need for a special session was discussed, but Governor Kump indicated that he would await definite action by Congress on social security legislation before convening the legislature in extraordinary session. Several meetings of the committee have been held and a full and complete study made of West Virginia's social security problems, and it is believed that the committee will be ready to report promptly just as soon as matters of appropriations and procedure are settled at Washington.

Recovery

From every section of West Virginia came reports of a decided improvement in business. There was a sizeable increase in retail sales during the year, and during the holidays business reached such proportions that it was necessary for hundreds of stores to double their sales forces. In most cities shopping equaled the peaks of boom times. Improvement in business was further reflected in the increase of postal receipts at the various post offices in West Virginia. In numerous instances such receipts surpassed the 1929 peak and skyrocketed to new all-time records. The recovery in business and industry during the year was most pronounced, and optimism prevailed on all sides at the close.
