[Passed January 29, 2015; in effect ninety days from passage.]

AN ACT to amend the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, by adding thereto a new section, designated §55-7-27, relating to liability of possessor of real property for harm to a trespasser.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended by adding thereto a new section, designated §55-7-27, to read as follows:

ARTICLE 7. ACTIONS FOR INJURIES.

§55-7-27. Liability of possessor of real property for harm to a trespasser.

1 (a) A possessor of real property, including an owner,
2 lessee or other lawful occupant, owes no duty of care to a
3 trespasser except in those circumstances where a
4 common-law right-of-action existed as of the effective date
5 of this section, including the duty to refrain from willfully or 6 wantonly causing the trespasser injury.

7 (b) A possessor of real property may use justifiable force
8 to repel a criminal trespasser as provided by section
9 twenty-two of this article.

10 (c) This section does not increase the liability of any 11 possessor of real property and does not affect any immunities
12 from or defenses to liability established by another section of 13 this code or available at common law to which a possessor of 14 real property may be entitled.

15 (d) The Legislature intends to codify and preserve the 16 common law in West Virginia on the duties owed to 17 trespassers by possessors of real property as of the effective 18 date of this section.

The Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills hereby certifies that the foregoing bill is correctly enrolled.
