Whereas, West Virginia University is the state's first and largest land-grant university, and has been dedicated to serving the citizens of West Virginia for more than 150 years; and

Whereas, West Virginia University offers students the perks and programs of a major research institution at a price below the national average; and

Whereas, Extension agents and specialists deliver trusted traditions and progressive solutions to the citizens of West Virginia in the areas of youth development, agriculture, and family and community development; and

Whereas, West Virginia University Extension Service’s 4-H Youth Development Program, the state’s largest youth organization, has given more than 75,000 youths the opportunity to expand their horizons through hands-on programming and camping experiences, such as building robots, helping the environment, coding (as part of 4-H’s National Youth Science Day Challenge), traveling around the globe, and fostering healthy lifestyles; therefore, be it

Senate Resolution 21—Designating January 24, 2019, as Human Resources Day at the Capitol.

Whereas, Traditionally, human resources dealt with the part of an organization or company that was responsible for hiring, firing, training, and other personnel issues; and

Whereas, Today, human resources encompasses a vast area of diverse and dynamic issues that affect the everyday lives of our workforce; and

Whereas, In an effort to enhance morale and productivity, limit job turnover, and help organizations increase performance and improve results, human resources workers also help their companies or organizations effectively use employee skills, by providing training and development opportunities to improve those skills and increasing employees' satisfaction with their job and working conditions; and

Whereas, In today's economy, human resources has become increasingly difficult as companies and organizations have instituted cost-cutting measures requiring human resources workers to play a vital role in tackling these issues sensibly and responsibly for their company and its employees; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates January 24, 2014, as Human Resources Day at the Capitol; and, be it
