Senator Trump, from the Committee on the Judiciary, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on the Judiciary has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 38 (originating in the Committee on the Judiciary)—Requesting the United States Environmental Protection Agency transfer the State of West Virginia from Environmental Protection Agency Region III to Environmental Protection Agency Region IV.

Whereas, The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is a federal agency charged with enforcing numerous federal statutes, including, but not limited to, the Clean Water Act and the Clean Air Act; and

Whereas, The EPA organized the agency into 10 geographic regional offices and corresponding regional administrators; and

Whereas, Regional administrators are granted authority to, among other things, conduct effective regional enforcement and compliance programs and exercise approval authority for proposed state standards and implementation plans; and

Whereas, West Virginia is included in the EPA Regional Office designated as “Region III”, the regional headquarters of which is located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and which region also includes the states of Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and the District of Columbia; and

Whereas, Pursuant to 40 C. F. R. 1.7, the EPA has designated a Regional Office, "Region IV", the regional headquarters of which is located in Atlanta, Georgia, which region includes the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee; and

Whereas, The coal industry is an industry of great economic importance to the State of West Virginia; and

Whereas, The EPA's interpretation and enforcement of the Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act, as administered by the regional administrator for Region III, particularly during recent years, has had a substantial negative impact on West Virginia's coal industry and, therefore, a negative impact on West Virginia's economy; and

Whereas, Taking into consideration: (1) That the EPA presumably organizes its administration into regions such that, in administering the various federal laws under its purview, it can take into account, among other things, the similar demographic and economic characteristics of the states in each region when implementing regulatory and enforcement policies for each region; (2) that the demographic and economic characteristics of West Virginia, and particularly the southern coal producing regions of West Virginia, align much more with the demographic and economic characteristics of the states in EPA Region IV in contrast to the states in EPA Region III; (3) that Kentucky, the third largest coal-producing state in the United States, is in Region IV, while West Virginia, the second largest coal-producing state in the United States, is in Region III; and (4) that the primary industry that the EPA regulates in West Virginia is the coal industry, it would be appropriate that West Virginia be transferred from EPA Region III to EPA Region IV; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the United States Environmental Protection Agency transfer the State of West Virginia from Environmental Protection Agency Region III to Environmental Protection Agency Region IV; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to Gina McCarthy, Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency and to each member of West Virginia's congressional delegation.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted.

Senators Walters, Beach, Stollings, Prezioso, Williams and Plymale offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 44—Recognizing the contributions of West Virginia women who served their nation as "Rosie the Riveters" during World War II.

Whereas, During World War II, with most of America's men serving in the armed forces on battlefields around the globe, millions of women around the nation rallied to the call to help keep our nation's industrial productivity operational; and

Whereas, These women, officially called "Women Ordinance Workers", filled the industrial void to produce such products as airplanes, ships and vehicles; and

Whereas, Women Ordinance Workers worked on assembly lines in our nation's industries as riveters, welders and machinists served as health care and laboratory personnel, and also as record keepers, writers and bookkeepers; and

Whereas, The Women Ordinance Workers, later nicknamed "Rosie the Riveters", were dedicated, patriotic women who were performing many tasks considered as men's work as their husbands, brothers and sons served in the armed forces and battled the enemy on foreign soil; and

Whereas, Many women from West Virginia are documented to have worked not only in their home state, but were deployed to other parts of the nation; and

Whereas, As these women rallied to the call of a nation at war, they did so at a great personal sacrifice, many leaving their children with family members at a time when communications around the nation were limited; and

Whereas, While popular songs and movies have immortalized their actions, they remain unrecognized heroes for their efforts in helping to gain victory and maintain freedom around the world; and

Whereas, Many communities in West Virginia welcomed these women and are beginning to recognize their efforts. The city of St. Albans has been the first to designate their community as a "Rosie the Riveters Community" in tribute to the service of Women Ordinance Workers; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the contributions of West Virginia women who served their nation as “Rosie the Riveters” during World War II; and, be it
