

Public Submission to the West Virginia Legislature Joint Committee on Redistricting

Date Document Received: August 28, 2021

Description: 1 Page

Disclaimer of Liability and Endorsement: The attached document was prepared by a private citizen or organization and submitted to the West Virginia Legislature Joint Committee on Redistricting as part of the information-gathering process. The views, content, and opinions expressed in this document are solely those of the third-party preparers and do not reflect the views, legal opinions, or in any way represent official action of the West Virginia Legislature Joint Committee on Redistricting, the West Virginia Senate, the West Virginia House of Delegates, the West Virginia Legislature, or their members (collectively, “the West Virginia Legislature”). The attached document is provided for information and convenience of the public. Reference to any specific redistricting plan, map, district, or process does not constitute endorsement or recommendation by the West Virginia Legislature. The West Virginia Legislature makes no claims, promises, guarantees, or warranties about the contents, errors, or omissions in the content of the attached document. The West Virginia Legislature expressly disclaims responsibility for the content of the attached document.

---

From: WVApps <wvapps@wvlegislature.gov>
Sent: Saturday, August 28, 2021 9:09 AM
To: Joint Redistricting <Joint.Redistricting@wvlegislature.gov>
Subject: Redistricting

Tim McGowan

COMMENTS: Hello, How about something fair, simple, and absolutely nonpartisan? Divide the total population by the number of districts. Then start up at the northeast corner of the state and begin counting. Move south and west counting along the way until you reach the number of people needed to make a district. Repeat over and over again for each district. You could even develop a computer program to do the work for you. Regards, Tim McGowan