INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors Covenant House, Inc. Charleston, West Virginia

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Covenant House, Inc. (the Organization) as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Covenant House, Inc. as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated August 22, 2010 on our consideration of Covenant House, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and on our test of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements of Covenant House, Inc. taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2010 and 2009

1 - NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

Covenant House, Inc. (the Organization) was organized in 1981 as a non-profit organization to provide low-income persons with housing, food, clothing, education, health care and employment. The Organization is supported primarily through governmental funding in the form of grant awards. The Organization operates the above programs in central and southern West Virginia.

Method of Accounting and Basis of Presentation

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Financial statement presentation follows the standards set by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. Under those provisions, the Organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: (a) unrestricted net assets, (b) temporarily restricted net assets, and (c) permanently restricted net assets.

Net assets of the two restricted classes are created only by time or donor imposed restrictions on use. All other net assets, including board-designated or appropriated amounts, are considered unrestricted, and are reported as part of the unrestricted class.

Unrestricted net assets: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations.

Temporarily restricted net assets: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met, either by actions of the Organization and/or the passage of time. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Permanently restricted net assets: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the Organization. Generally, the donors of these assets permit the Organization to use all or part of the income earned on any related investments for general or specific purposes.

The Organization has elected to present temporarily restricted contributions, which restrictions are fulfilled in the same time period, within the unrestricted net assets class.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)

December 31, 2010 and 2009

1 - NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financials statements. Estimates also affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Organization considers all cash accounts, which are not held in investment accounts and are not subject to withdrawal restrictions or penalties, and all highly liquid debt instruments, which are not held in investment accounts, purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Receivables and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are presented in the balance sheet at the time all the requirements for collection have been fulfilled. Grants receivable are recognized once notice of award is received and the grant objectives are substantially met and services have been provided. Management believes all receivables are collectible.

Investments

Investments are carried at fair value. Investments acquired by gift are recorded at the fair value at the date of receipt. Fair value is determined principally from public sources. Cash and cash equivalents of investment accounts held temporarily until suitable investments opportunities arise are included in investments. Realized gains and losses are computed on the average cost method. Unrealized gains or losses are charged or credited to the statement of activities.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost as of the date of acquisition or fair value as of the date received in the case of gifts. The assets are capitalized when the Organization determines that substantial future benefits will be achieved and have a cost value of at least $1,500. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The cost and accumulated depreciation of property sold or retired is removed from the related asset and accumulated depreciation accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recorded in the period of disposal. Renewals and improvements, which extend the useful lives of assets, are capitalized at cost. The cost of routine maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred.

December 31, 2010 and 2009

Property and Equipment (Continued)

Contributed property and equipment with donor restrictions on how long the assets must be used are recorded as restricted contributions. All other contributions of property and equipment are recorded as unrestricted contributions when the assets are placed in service.

Note Payable

The carrying amount of the notes payable approximates fair value because the financial instruments bear interest at a rate that approximates the current market rate for notes with similar maturities and credit quality.

Expense Allocation

Directly identifiable expenses are charged to programs and supporting services. Expenses related to more than one function are charged to programs and supporting services on the basis of periodic time and expense studies. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of the Organization.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Organization maintains its cash and short-term investments at financial institutions located in West Virginia. The balances in these accounts, at times, may exceed Federally insured limits.

Contributed Services and Assets

Contributions of services are recognized if the services received create or enhance nonfinancial assets, or require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation. Contributed services and promises to give services that do not meet the above criteria are not recognized. Contributed services which are recognized are valued at the estimated cost that would have been incurred by the Organization to purchase similar services. Donated land, stock, and other assets are valued at the fair market value at the date of donation.

Fair Value Measurements

FASB codification 820 "Fair Value Measurements," was issued in order to establish a single definition of fair value and a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) that is intended to result in increased consistency and comparability in fair value measurements. Codification 820 also expands disclosures about fair value measurements and applies whenever other authoritative literature requires certain assets and liabilities to be measured at fair value, but does not expand the use of fair value.

"Fair Value Measurements" establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. This hierarchy consists of three broad levels: quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1), significant other observable inputs (Level 2), and significant unobservable inputs (Level 3).

1 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards includes the federal grant activity of the Organization and is presented on the accrual basis of accounting. # SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR YEAR AUDIT FINDINGS

For the Year Ended December 31, 2010

2009-1 PAYROLL PROCESSING

Condition and Criteria

HOPWA funds were used to cover a portion of an employee's salary even though their timesheets show the time as being spent on a SOAR program or supporting service.

Recommendation

We recommend that appropriate procedures be established to ensure that accurate timesheets are kept and that appropriate programs and supporting services be billed for the respective time spent on that particular program or supporting service.

Current Status

The recommendation was adopted in December 2009. No similar findings were noted in the 2010 audit.

2009-2 HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR PEOPLE WITH AIDS (HOPWA)

Condition and Criteria

Invoices/supports that were used to substantiate expenditures were erroneously discarded or misplaced. There was little or no documentation available to support these expenditures that were being billed to the HOPWA program. This makes it difficult to determine allocability, allowability or reasonableness of these costs charged to the federal program.

Recommendation

We recommend that procedures be developed to strengthen internal controls over the retention and proper filing of invoice/support for expenditures.

Current Status

The recommendation was adopted in December 2009. Similar finding was noted in the 2010 audit.

ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Board of Directors Covenant House, Inc. Charleston, West Virginia

We have audited the financial statements of Covenant House, Inc. (a nonprofit organization) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, and have issued our report thereon dated August 22, 2011. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered Covenant House, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purposes of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Covenant House, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control over financial reporting.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting, described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs that we consider to be significant deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting. [2010-1] A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Covenant House, Inc.'s financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item 2010-1.

We noted certain matters that we reported to management of the Covenant House, Inc. in a separate letter dated August 22, 2011.

Covenant House, Inc.'s response to the findings identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. We did not audit Covenant House, Inc.'s response and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the board of directors, management, others within the entity, and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties

REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the Board of Directors Covenant House, Inc. Charleston, West Virginia

We have audited Covenant House, Inc.'s (a nonprofit organization) compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of Covenant House, Inc.'s major federal programs for the year ended December 31, 2010. Covenant House, Inc.'s major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the Covenant House, Inc.'s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on Covenant House, Inc.'s compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Government, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about Covenant House, Inc 's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of Covenant House, Inc.'s compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Covenant House, Inc. complied, in all material respects, with the compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended December 31, 2010. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed instances of noncompliance with those requirements, which are required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item (2010-1).

Internal Control Over Compliance

Management of Covenant House, Inc. is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered Covenant House, Inc.'s internal control over compliance with the requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program to determine the auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Covenant House, Inc.'s internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weakness, as defined above. However we identified certain deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be significant deficiencies as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item 2010-1. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Covenant House, Inc.'s response to the finding identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. We did not audit Covenant House, Inc.'s response and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the response.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the board of directors, management, others within the entity, and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

August 22, 2011

To the Board of Directors Covenant House, Inc. Charleston, West Virginia

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Covenant House, Inc., (the Organization), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Organization's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or a combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the organization's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the organization's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the organization's internal control. We consider the following deficiencies to be significant deficiencies in internal control.

CONTROL OVER OUTSTANDING CHECKS

Audit procedures in the cash area disclosed that there were old outstanding checks on the bank reconciliation statement that went unresolved for extended periods of time. Old outstanding checks should be investigated and properly resolved as part of internal control over cash disbursements. We suggest that, at least annually, all old outstanding checks be investigated and resolved by someone other than the person preparing reconciliations. This is a repeat comment.

SEQUENTIAL NUMERICAL CHECK CONTROL

While conducting cash disbursements testing, we noted that many checks were written out of sequence. Cash disbursements control procedures should be designed to be practicable and to provide reasonable assurance that no unauthorized payments are made, all liabilities are timely paid, and payments are accurately recorded. These controls include accounting for the sequential use of checks. We recommend strict numerical control be kept over all checks and that checks be issued in sequence. This is a repeat comment.

BANK RECONCILIATIONS

During the audit, we noted that the bank reconciliation for the Organization's cash accounts did not reconcile the bank balance to the general ledger balance at December 31, 2010. We recommend that the bank account be properly and timely reconciled each month to the general ledger and that unidentified differences and unusual items be investigated and resolved promptly. Corrective action should be taken, so that the bank balance and the general ledger balance properly reconciles monthly. This is a repeat comment.

CASH RECEIPTS

During our testing of rental income we discovered that checks that had been received from renters for the payment of rent relating to the rental offices at Covenant House, Inc. were being deposited into Community Housing, a related entity, bank account. We strongly suggest that the cash receipts system be designed to ensure that all receipts relating to Covenant House, Inc be segregated and deposited in the proper bank account in a timely manner. This is a repeat comment.

VOIDED CHECKS

During our cash disbursement procedures it was noted that several checks were voided and deleted from the Organization's accounting system, QuickBooks. This practice greatly weakens the internal control over the cash disbursement process. We recommend that all voided check be retained and not be deleted from the accounting system. This will strengthen controls over cash disbursements. This is a repeat comment.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During our audit, it was noted that Covenant House was paying the expenditures of Community Housing. This transaction process was not properly tracked and recorded which caused difficulties in the related party transaction reporting. We strongly recommend that proper documentation and recording of related party transactions be performed. This is a repeat comment.

RECORD STORAGE AND RETRIEVAL

During our audit we noticed that accounting records frequently could not be located when needed. The causes of the problem were numerous:

- Lack of a clearly specified system for filing records
- Failure of those who removed records from files to indicate who took the record
- · Failure to return the record to the files or misfiling it when it was returned

The result was that employees spent nonproductive time searching for needed documents. This condition could also present problems if government agencies need documents in support of tax returns and other reports subject to audit. We recommend that the following steps be taken:

- Adopt a systematic manner of filing documents, such as vendor bills filed alphabetically by vendor name or pre-numbered sales invoices.
- Describe system in the accounting manual so employees will know how to find and refile documents.
- Institute use of sign-out cards to be filled out when documents are removed from a file.
- Determine when unneeded records should be removed to other storage areas to create room for needed records.

This is a repeat comment.
